SEEKS PROBE OF WOOD'S RULE ON ISLANDS

Senator Ladd, North Dakota, Asks Congress Inquiry Into Activities

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—One of the most sweeping investigations ever undertaken in congress would be launched into the administration of Major General Leonard Wood as governor-general of the Philippine islands, under the terms of a resolution in the senate this afternoon by Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota.

Ladd asked Congress to investigate the activities of General Wood, "in relation to the Philippine government, its legislature, its banks, its railways, its sugar control and efforts to exploit the island by American commercial interests."

He also asked a separate investigation of the depositing of $31,449,219 of Philippine government funds in American banks and of alleged stock transactions by Wood, his army subordinates or by persons associated with him."

24 MILLIONS IN VALLEY PRODUCTS

B. R. Holloway Cites Facts And Figures at Meeting Of Rotary Club

Revelations regarding the agricultural assets of the San Fernando valley were made before the Glendale Rotary club this afternoon by B. R. Holloway, past president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce. The greatest dairies in the world are located in the heart of the valley, he said, with more than 4000 cows in the Van Nuys vicinity alone.

Speaking of the Adohr farm, which scores between 97 and 100 per cent on its certified product, the highest rating ever attained by any milk, there are 400 milkers employed, while the Los Angeles Creamery company and other dairy interests nearly equal this record, Mr. Halloway added. The best milk retails at 28 cents a quart.

Highway, Big Need

Summarizing the agricultural resources in dollars and cents the grand total of San Fernando valley products in the year 1923 was no less than $24,000,000, the speaker said. He also told why

BEST CAT WINS FIRST ONCE MORE

Mrs. Frank Bundy's Wonder 'Powder Puff Chimes' Again Champion

For the second consecutive year "best cat" in the Glendale Cat Show has been won by Powder Puff Chimes, the gorgeous white champion long hair male owned by Mrs. Frank Bundy, 7409 Maie avenue, Los Angeles.

Hundreds who last night visited the show at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, saw this magnificent animal and the scores of other high-bred cats that mark this show the best ever held on the Pacific coast. Many others are expected to visit the show on its closing night, tonight.

This cat, with its round, wide-set brilliant blue eyes, perfect coat, curving tail, thick, strong legs, massive head and broad, snub nose, is one of the finest specimens of its type in the west, or, for that matter, anywhere in America.

Near to Perfection

That Miss Ethel R. B. Champion, eastern judge, brought from New York by the Glendale Cat club to preside over this show, should confirm the opinion of the judge who last year selected Powder Puff Chimes as the best cat in the show indicates that the animal indeed approaches perfection, for Miss Champion's stand-

Small Boy Dies Result Stray Shot; Arrest Two Youths

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—The mystery slaying of 3-year-old Faustino Aro, who was found dying at a South Alameda street address early today, was solved this afternoon when the child's parents were located and told officers their son was shot by two school boys yesterday afternoon.

The shooting is said to have been accidental, a stray bullet from a 22 calibre rifle, used by the school boys to hunt squirrels, having inflicted the wound, according to deputy sheriffs, who investigated the case. The boys who are alleged to have done the shooting are Jacob Patterson, 14, and David Patterson, 11. Both were arrested. The boys were found in school today and were held by juvenile authorities pending an investigation.

DAYLIGHT BANDIT SNATCHES PURSE

Owner Had Deposited $50 in Bank Shortly Before Robbery Occurred

The fact that Mrs. Mary J. Rich of 320 West Cypress avenue entered the First National bank, at 1267 South Brand boulevard for the purpose of making a deposit instead of a withdrawal, saved her from a serious loss shortly before noon today when a young man snatched her purse from her hand at the corner of Cypress street and Central avenue.

Evidently the thief had watched her movements and anticipated that when she left the bank she would carry quite a sum of money. On the contrary, however, she had taken $50 to the bank to deposit for her daughter, Irene, so the thief who laid in wait for her got only $3 for his trouble.

In her report to the police she stated the young man, of slender build, and dressed in a suit of blue overalls, slipped up behind her, grabbed her purse, broke it from the strap in her hand and immediately ran north on Central avenue toward Broadway. Motor Officer L. L. Jones, detailed on the case, searched for the robber, but could not locate him.

Hold Woman Clerk On Mail Robbery Charge

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17.—Miss Katherine A. Stanford, 45, a clerk in the dead letter division of the Portland postoffice, was arrested last night by postoffice inspectors on a charge of robbery of the mails.

The robbery of the mails has been going on for several months. The amount of money alleged by inspectors to have been obtained by Miss Stanford has not yet been determined.

GET GREAT ESTATE

SEATTLE, Jan. 17.—Property in the heart of the Irish city of Limerick valued at approximately $1,000,000,000, will come into the possession of American and Canadian descendants of John Kane on December 3, 1928, at midnight, according to an investigation the results of which were being communicated to relatives throughout the country today.

SEVERE COLD AGAIN HITS MID-WEST

Zero or Below in Number Of Sections; Four Die In New York Storm

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Zero and below nipped the west again today from the Rocky mountains to the Great Lakes. This severe temperature ruled from Denver, even zero, to Chicago, four below, and from Minneapolis, twenty below and "clear and snappy," to Kansas City and St. Louis, which hung at the zero mark.

Absence of the knife-like winds which brought the record temperatures of January 5 was expected to reduce the suffering.

Relief from the cold, which was a forty degree drop in the Great Lakes territory, was looked for Saturday, with another snow fall.

Four Persons Lose Lives In New York's Big Storm

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—"Spring calm" today followed on the heels of last night's storm in which four persons lost their lives, while shipping suffered along the entire north Atlantic seaboard.

Three of the dead were killed in traffic accidents due to driving rain. The fourth, Frederick G. Donohue, treasurer of Carnegie hall, was electrocuted by a falling live wire.

The Dutch freighter Normannia was reported in danger of sinking off the Delaware capes. Coast guard cutters were sent to her aid.

S. O. S. calls from barges and light craft off the Jersey coast were picked up during the night. Two barges sunk with no fatalities.

The weather bureau predicted that New York will experience its coldest snap of the winter late today. The storm was coming from the middle west.

Taxes, Restrictions, Hamper Grain Trade

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. — Heavy federal documentary taxes and restrictions of the Capper-Tincher futures trading act, are narrowing business on grain exchanges in this country and driving this business to the Winnipeg market, the House ways and means committee was told today by L. F. Gates, of the Chicago Board of Trade.

Gates recommended to the committee repeal of the stamp taxes on insurance and transfer contracts, and on telegraph and telephone communications.

Ships Crew Brings Fire Under Control

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 17.—The steamer Silverado, now off the mouth of the Columbia river, reported at 8 o'clock this morning the fire in her No. 1 hold was now under control.

The coast guard cutter Swallow is standing by to render assistance if needed.

GUARD CHILD TO HALT KIDNAPING

Letter Demands $400,000 From Heiress to Millions Of Gates Estate

ST. CHARLES, Ill., Jan. 17.—Letters threatening to kidnap the month-old daughter of Mrs. Dellora Angel Norris, 20-year-old heiress to the $35,000,000 John W. Gates estate, unless $400,000 is turned over immediately to the writers, has been received by the young mother and her husband at their home here, Mrs. Norris' grandmother reported to the authorities today.

The note demanding $400,000 or "your baby's poison and maybe its life," was mailed from Evanston, Ill.

The Norris cottage has been surrounded night and day by armed guards and tiny Laverne Gertrude Norris has been kept under guard in the nursery since the threat.

SMALL HOPE FOR CRUISER TACOMA

Standard Warship Pounded By Treacherous Rocks of Blanquilla Reefs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Little hope was held out today by the navy department for saving the cruiser Tacoma, which went on the rocks on Blanquilla reefs, sixteen miles from Vera Cruz.

A radio dispatch from the stranded ship reported that she had been thrown broadside on the treacherous reefs and that virtually all of her underwater compartments were flooded.

The light cruiser Richmond has been ordered to proceed to Vera Cruz to replace the Tacoma, it was announced at the navy department late yesterday.

ZEPPELIN EXPERT LAUDS DIRIGIBLE

Shenandoahs' Storm Flight Proves Capability to Reach North Pole

LAKEHURST, N. J., Jan. 17.—Paying a glowing tribute to the ship and her crew for her splendid behavior under the most grilling test they had ever experienced, Captain Anton Heimen, German Zeppelin expert, declared today that the wild flight of the Shenandoah gave ample proof that the giant ship could successfully complete the planned North Pole flight.

"The Shenandoah is without doubt the strongest dirigible I have ever flown and I have flown many in my twenty years' experience as a builder of such craft," he declared. "No other ship in the world would have stood the test the Shenandoah went through. The test proved beyond a doubt that the Shenandoah is fully capable of making the trip to the North Pole.

CREW ON HUGE DIRIGIBLE DISPLAYS HEROISM WHILE FIGHTING WITH ELEMENTS

Shenandoah Damaged as Result of Buffeting About For Nine Hours; Officers and Men Bring Craft to Port With Calmness

By JACK CARBERRY
For The International News Service.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Jan. 17.—Damage sustained by the giant naval dirigible Shenandoah on her wild storm-tossed 300 mile cruise was more extensive than at first believed, according to preliminary reports wirelessed today by the airship's commanding officer, Captain F. A. McCrary, to the naval communications bureau at Washington.

During the nine hour tempestuous voyage in a seventy-mile gale after the Shenandoah had broken away from her moorings at 6:52 o'clock last evening, the airship suffered the following damage:

Bow cap torn off; two forward gas cells deflated; large section of outer cover gone from starboard bow. Many holes in outer cover; outer stabilizing fin gone.

Detailed Report to Be Made Officials

The gaping hole in the bow and the collapse of the upper stabilizing fin made steering difficult.

Captain McCrary reported to Washington that after a thorough examination a complete, detailed report will be made to Rear Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics.

After her wild ride when she was at the mercy of a terrific wind and driving rain, the Shenandoah was landed at 3:30 this morning and was nosed into her hangar at 4:34 o'clock. The ground crew of 400 men at the air depot gave a noisy welcome to the Shenandoah as she returned from her spectacular and involuntary voyage.

Twenty-one Officers and Men Aboard

The great dirigible which is destined for a cruise over the North pole next summer, had broken loose from her mooring mast yesterday afternoon with twenty-one officers and men aboard and was carried as far as Staten Island before she succeeded in overcoming the wind and turning back for Lakehurst. It was estimated that the Shenandoah had traveled about 300 miles.

Throughout the night the crew of the Shenandoah was in continuous wireless communication with the naval aeronautic station at Lakehurst.

"We are having a delightful cruise," wirelessed Lieutenant Commander E. H. Kincaid, from the balloon at 1:15 o'clock.

The dramatic cruise of the Shenandoah proved her airworthy in the teeth of the most severe storm and testified to the superior construction.

Naval officers at Lakehurst were elated over the safety of the ship but no less so over the calmness and bravery of the crew and the strength of the ship's framework.

Fear Craft Might Be Carried Seaward

While the Shenandoah was being buffeted by wind and rain, the officers and men attached to the Lakehurst air station were in trepidation for fear the ship might be carried seaward.

It was about 3 o'clock when the Shenandoah was sighted putting back to her home berth. A mighty cheer went up from the 400 members of the land force as the big ship, flying as gracefully as a swan, began circling over the field preparatory to landing.

Captain Anton Heinen, in charge of the landing operations, stood with a megaphone in his hands and shouted to those below:

"You sons of guns, you were waiting for something to happen, weren't you?"

This cool greeting brought forth another burst of cheering.

A strong ground breeze was blowing as the Shenandoah, after her second circle over the field, pointed her nose downward and began to slide towards earth. The wind blew strongly into her rents in the fore end of the ship where the nose cap had been torn away, retarding her progress.

Finally she was low enough for the men on the ground to grasp the landing ropes and they pulled with a will, drawing the great vessel slowly to the ground.

Congratulated For Their Clever Work

Lieutenant Commander Maurice G. Pierce, Lieutenant Commander J. L. Dean, Lieutenant Commander E. H. Kincaid, Captain Anton Heinen and the other officers and men on board were heartily congratulated for the manner in which they had handled the vessel on her dangerous journey. They said that at no time did they fear for their safety or that of the ship. Their only anxiety was how long they would be compelled to remain in the air.

The slight damage caused by the breaking loose of the Shenandoah will not change the plans of the navy department to send her upon her sensational polar voyage, it was said.

After leaving Lakehurst the Shenandoah was carried due north in the teeth of a terrific wind. She was sighted over Summit, N. J., at 8:15 o'clock. Twenty-five minutes later the huge gray form of the balloon was disclosed against the storm sky over Madison. Ten minutes later she was directly over Westfield. From Westfield the airship turned to a northeasterly course.

Many Watch Ship Battling With Gale

Residents of New York sighted the balloon over that city at 10 o'clock. She remained in view for some time, evidently fighting with all the strength of her motors to buck the wind and turn inland.

From Newark, the dirigible disappeared in the direction of Bayonne.

For a long time the airship hovered over the vicinity of Bayonne. At 10:30 the Shenandoah began drifting over the Kill Von Kull, a narrow neck of water separating the New Jersey coast from Staten Island.

At this time the dirigible was plainly visible to soldiers on Governor's Island, headquarters of the department of the east, U. S. A.

Shortly after 11 o'clock the balloon was being carried over Staten Island in the direction of New York city. At 11:10 the ship passed over Tottenville, Staten Island. Twenty minutes later the airship was visible over Great Kills. Persons on the ground thought she was in distress and that something had happened to one of the motors. The giantess of the skies was fighting a valiant fight with her engines pounding at full speed.

Runaway Brought Under Full Control

At 11:45 the ship crossed over Grant City on the south shore of Staten Island. She had been carried closer to seaward despite the efforts of the crew.

Just after midnight the wind shifted somewhat, and, taking advantage of this favorable circumstance, the crew made a supreme effort to head back home. A short time later the Shenandoah was again traveling toward Lakehurst, having re-crossed the Kill Von Kull.

Shortly before 1 o'clock the airship passed Keyport, N. J., traveling slowly, but under control. At 1:45 the Shenandoah was over Freehold, N. J.

Throughout all this venturous and dramatic voyage the wireless operator on board kept in constant touch with the Lakehurst station. He repeated over and over:

"All well. What are weather prospects?"

After leaving Freehold the remainder of the voyage to Lakehurst seemed easy enough. The lights on the airship were burning and the great vessel was visible to thousands on the ground below. As she approached Lakehurst from Freehold the Shenandoah traveled at an altitude of about 600 feet.

At 2:30 the Shenandoah had reached the Lakehurst depot but did not try to land at once. She hovered in the air for nearly an hour before making the landing.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Palmer, formerly of Los Angeles, have purchased a five-room home at 708 West Patterson street.

F. M. Beeson, 516 North Kenwood, is making a hurried trip to Kansas City, expecting to return in a few days by way of the California Limited.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. McSwiney, who have been Glendale residents for a year on Ivy street, left yesterday over the Union Pacific for their old home in Nashville, Tenn.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hall of 127½ West Cerritos avenue and Mr. and Mrs. Max Green returned home Monday night from Warner Hot Springs, where they spent an enjoyable four days.

Earl Pilkenton, with his wife and child, have recently settled in their new home at 1370 Thompson avenue. Their former home was in Guthrie, Ok., where Mr. Pilkenton was employed as a locomotive engineer.

Rev. and Mrs. Louis Tinning and children, Theresa and Graham, and Mr. Tinning's sister, Miss Bertha Tinning, were dinner guests last night of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Boyd of 326 North Jackson street. The Tinnings are not leaving for Capistrano until the first of February.

W. Boyd and his family, who have been living at 135 South Belmont avenue, are forced by Mr. Boyd's extensive business connections at Plain View, Tex., to return to that place. They look forward enthusiastically to the opportunity to come to Glendale again next winter, however. They will travel to Texas via the Santa Fe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Kidder and daughter Dorothy have returned from Phoenix, Ariz., where they have been spending several months for the benefit of Mr. Kidder's health. He has returned very much improved. They are guests at present at the home of Mrs. Kidder's sister, Mrs. H. F. Helfrich, 515 East Lexington drive, and expect to return to their home at 1214 Dorothy drive soon after February 15.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sanford of Sycamore Canyon road have been enjoying a visit with old-time friends, Miss Laura Abernethy and brother, H. A. Abernethy, of Ord, Neb. When the visitors left their home in the middle west the mercury was standing at thirty-two degrees below zero, and it was a revelation to them to arrive in Glendale and find flowers in bloom. They are very much in love with the city. Miss Abernethy has gone to Calexico for a visit and her brother is now in Los Angeles where they will make their headquarters for a time. After touring the northern part of the state they expect to locate in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and make Southern California their permanent home.

Mrs. Barton Manbert of 621 Riverdale drive is entertaining at luncheon today, her guests being fourteen members of the Riverdale Drive Luncheon club

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Botsford of 1407 Dorothy Drive are being entertained as dinner guests tonight by Mrs. F. S. Dickinson of Los Angeles.

Social Events

Returns Home

Mrs. A. H. Fuelsher of 622 North Isabel street arrived at home Tuesday morning after a trip north where she has been visiting relatives and friends for the past three weeks. She was a guest at the home of a brother of Mr. Fuelsher in San Francisco and visited her sister whose home is in Oakland.

In company with these relatives she motored to many points of interest, visiting the geysers at Calistoga, the prison at San Quentin, Napa City, Vallejo, Santa Cruz, Santa Fe, and many other places in the vicinity.

She continued the railroad journey as far north as Orlando and Hamilton City, two hundred miles from Oakland, and on this trip traveled through country covered by seven inches of snow. While she saw a great deal of snow, in other respects the northern part of the state is showing the effects of the continued lack of rain, and the weather was very cold with heavy fogs.

A pleasant feature of the trip was the meeting of a number of relatives that she had not seen for eighteen years and many old-time friends from her former home in Colorado whom she had not met since her girlhood days.

Arranges Program

Compliments have been showered on Mrs. George Moore for the program of music and readings she arranged for the entertainment Tuesday night, presented under the auspices of the women's society of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

The program included piano solos by Miss Lelia Whitehead, who rendered several selections in her usual impressive way. Miss Gladys Flagg favored those present with two vocal selections, playing her own accompaniment. Mrs. Marlowe delighted her audience with the reading, "Aunt Matilda's Instructions On How to Train a Husband."

A special feature of the program was the presentation of the playlet, "Lyon & Myers' Automatic Dolls," by a number of the members of the society. This proved unusually interesting and amusing.

The rest of the evening was devoted to playing games and an informal social hour. Coffee and home-made cake were served by the refreshment committee later in the evening.

Reading Circle

Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale Parent-Teachers' Association federation, pleased those attending the Mutual Benefit Reading circle yesterday at the public library, with two splendid reviews. She gave "Purchasing Agent of the Home" by Edith McClure Patterson, and "My Adventures as a Bold Bad Bugeteer" by H. I. P. Phillips.

Mrs. H. V. Henry, chairman, was in charge of the meeting. At noon there was a hot luncheon served to replace the funds in the treasury.

In the afternoon Mrs. Henry finished the book "Play and Education" by Lee and at the meeting next week will begin "Schools of Tomorrow" by John Dewey.

Next week there will be a cake sale at the noon hour.

♣ ♣ ♣

Luncheon Meeting

Matters of importance to the Glendale College Women's Club were discussed and acted upon at the luncheon meeting yesterday of the executive board at the Harriett Mae tea room.

Mrs. A. L. Ferguson, president, presided, and there were present Mrs. Paul E. Webb, Mrs. Helen S. Moir, Miss Ida D. Myers, Mrs. J. S. Hayward, Mrs. D. F. Reichard, Mrs. E. B. Sutton, Katherine V. Sinks, Mrs. W. E. Lusby, Miss Hazel White and Mrs. F. S. Balthis, representing Mrs. R. L. Holland, courtesy chairman.

The meeting of the club the second Saturday in February is to be a "Stanford University" day, and will be featured by a luncheon and program, arranged and given by Stanford women belonging to the club.

Meets Today

The next regular business meeting of the Broadway Parent Teacher Association will be held today, Thursday, January 17, at 2:30 o'clock, it is announced by the president, Mrs. Mary Reese.

At this time a roundtable will be conducted on "Moral Training in the Home," by Mrs. H. V. Henry, who is so successfully conducting the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle.

Preceding the regular meeting a board meeting of all room mothers, chairmen of various committees and officers of the association are to meet at 11 o'clock.

A kindergarten teacher will be present to care for the little ones during the meeting.

♣ ♣ ♣

Hosts to Class

Mr. and Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy of 924 East Raleigh street entertained Tuesday night the members of the Young Married People's class of the First Methodist church with an informal social affair.

The evening was devoted to music and games and at a late hour refreshments were served.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Day, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kiefer, Mr. and Mrs. Pike, Mrs. Ellis Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Davis, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Preston, and Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Hulett.

Hear Mr. Rowley

L. T. Rowley, truant officer, is to be the speaker tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Acacia Avenue Parent-Teacher Association at the school. The meeting will begin at 2:30 o'clock with the president, Mrs. Anna Torry, in charge.

Live Meeting

There were many things of interest yesterday at the meeting of the Literature Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the clubhouse. Mrs. H. C. Wilcox, curator, directed the meeting, which began with current events, given in response to the roll call.

From this discussion interest centered on the "Alien Land Law" and Mrs. Alfred Smith spoke most understandingly on this subject.

Mrs. Thomas G. McDougall delighted the company with a review of Kate Douglas Wiggin's "My Garden of Memory," the most talked of autobiography of the past year.

Two clever readings were given by Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy. Her first number, "Comfort," by Robert Service, was given with a musical accompaniment by Miss Marie Walsh. The second number was a monologue, "The Neighbors' New Automobile," by Mary Parker.

Another interesting feature was a letter from a young artist in Germany, read by Mrs. Gallagher.

Mesdames Edwin Cleophas and R. W. Mottern were hostesses for the afternoon.

Hostess to Club

One of the pleasing social events of the week was the luncheon and informal social affair given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Stephen C. Parker at her home, 362 West Riverdale drive when she entertained the members of the Wednesday Club.

The rooms of the Packer home were artistically decorated with arrangements of pink and white carnations. The luncheon table appointments were also carried out in a pink and white color scheme.

Those present included Mesdames G. D. Roach, J. F. Hearnshaw, E. S. McKee, C. H. Sanders, H. L. Clotworthy, J. Perkins, A. F. Muhleman, Charles Glover and Miss Clara Ringert.

Rodaires Guests

Members of the Rodaire club were entertained last night by Mrs. Ray Engle at her home, 712 South Maryland avenue, with an informal social affair.

The evening was devoted to sewing, and at a late hour dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were Misses, Zilda Cross, Henrietta Meck and Eva Brehme, and Mesdames, Paul McCowan, James McGowan, Herman Psenner, Fred M. Duffey and Robert Godar.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul McCowan 427 South Pacific avenue.

Drama Study

The American comedy "Dulcy" by George F. Kauffman and Marc Connelly is to be read tomorrow by members of the Drama Section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, meeting at 2 o'clock in the tea room at the clubhouse.

The meeting will be in charge of Mrs. Max Lynn Green, curator, and in addition to reading "Dulcy" there will be a review of the tragi-comedy, "He Who Gets Slapped" by Leonid Andreyev.

Much important business is to be considered and Mrs. Green hopes for a large attendance.

Mesdames A. L. Ferguson and A. L. Baird are to be hostesses.

Hostess Tonight

Miss Henrietta Meck of 230 East Maple avenue, will entertain the members of the Y. L. I. tonight, January 17, at 8 o'clock, with an informal social affair. All members are urged to be in attendance.

Pythian Sisters

A meeting of Glendale Pythian Sisters has been announced for 8 o'clock Friday night in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. Mabel A. King, most excellent chief, will be in charge.

♣ ♣ ♣

Hard Times Party

Members of the Montecito Social club are to meet Friday night in the community building at Sparr Heights for a hard times party. The affair is for members only.

Wattles Home to Be Scene of Reception

The attractive home of Capt. W. C. Wattles at 1653 Santa Barbara street, Verdugo Woodlands, is to be opened tonight to members and friends of the Glendale New Thought center for a fellowship reception. Capt. Wattles is newly elected president of the organization.

The larger circle school recently formed from the adult study class, that convenes the hour before regular Sunday morning services in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, will co-operate with the host in welcoming any strangers who may feel impelled to spend the pleasant social evening at the Wattles' home.

For those "out of gas" the Montrose-La Crescenta 7:30 p. m. car will deposit them safely at Glorietta street, a block from the mission tiled mansion of hospitality.

Drinking water can be squeezed from the pulp of one species of cactus.

FLEET BOMBARDS LOCKS AT GATUN

Key Point of Panama Canal Vulnerable to Enemy, Battle Reveals

COLON, Panama Canal Zone, Jan. 17.—The first lesson drawn from the American naval maneuvers demonstrated today that an enemy fleet could bombard Gatun locks, the key defensive point of the Panama canal. The Gatun locks are seven miles inland from the Atlantic entrance.

The black (enemy) fleet's long-range guns, firing 30,000 yards from positions in the Caribbean sea, succeeded in hitting Gatun, but did not put the locks out of commission, which, if done, would block the waterway.

The black (enemy) fleet established a land base and tried to attack Gatun locks from the air, but the aviators were driven off by the fire from high-angle guns.

Fort Hamilton, at Colon, was under bombardment, the guns of the fort being outranged by those of the "enemy."

The Pacific fleet is moving slowly through the canal, and so far the operation has been successful.

VERMONTERS LINE UP FOR COOLIDGE

Local Organization to Back President in Campaign For Nomination

Glendale Vermonters swung into line with a whoop yesterday, when the organization of a "Vermont-for-Coolidge" club was perfected. The new club is officered as follows:

President, Orren A. Gallup, 1301 South Central Ave.; vice-president, Mrs. Bernice C. Fish, 731 East Raleigh street; secretary, Frank J. Stillman, 413 North Jackson street; treasurer, George F. Ainsworth, 837 North Pacific avenue.

As expressing the sentiment of the club and all Vermonters residing in Glendale, the following resolution was adopted:

"The courageous, clean-cut progressive message of President Calvin Coolidge to Congress, breathing as it does statesmanship, sound economic policy, humanitarianism and social wisdom, has won the admiration and enthusiastic commendation of Vermonters in California."

The Vermonters are known to be a rather clannish, militant bunch, and with one of the sons of the Green Mountain state in the executive chair, it may be expected the representatives of that state "will do their durndest to make the California delegation to the Republican convention in Cleveland, next June, a solid one for 'Our Cal,' signifying loyalty both to Cal and Cal."

Warn of Fake Claims To Dodge Gas Taxes

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Warning to California gasoline distributors to guard against being duped by persons impersonating state officials and claiming exemption from payment of the state gasoline tax on counterfeit exemption blanks, was issued here today by State Controller Ray L. Riley.

DEATHS — FUNERALS

HAROLD FRANCIS ADAMS

The sorrow that entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Adams, at 153 South Pacific avenue, last night, Wednesday, January 16, 1924, on the death of their son, Harold Francis Adams, is shared by a wide circle of friends in both Glendale and Los Angeles.

Harold Francis, who was born at the family home, June 21, 1915, was possessed of an amiable disposition and beautiful character, which endeared him to his family and to his schoolmates at the Pacific Avenue school, and at the Sunday school of the Pacific Avenue Methodist church. His death occurred suddenly following a brief illness of intestinal influenza.

Besides his parents, Harold Francis leaves two brothers, Winslow Smith, age 11 years, and Clement Kenneth, age 3 years, and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith, of Lindsay.

The funeral is to be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Pacific Avenue church, West Harvard street and South Pacific avenue, with Rev. H. C. Mullen officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in Forest Lawn Memorial park.

The Jewel City Undertaking company are directors.

MRS. ELIZABETH A. McCANN

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong McCann, who died Monday, January 14, 1924, at her home 300 North Orange street, are to be held at 8'oclock tonight at the home.

Mrs. Ella J. Goldstraff is to take her mother's body to Hoboken, N. J. for burial.

The L. G. Scovern Undertaking company is in charge.

WOMAN HELD PRISONER

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Police and deputy sheriffs today hunted two burly negroes, who kidnaped Mrs. Stella Krauss, pretty 26 year old divorcee, after listening to the young woman's story of repeated attacks in a cabin on a lonely hill where she was held prisoner, she said, for more than twenty-four hours.

216 Years Ago Today
Anniversary Of Prohibition
Living Joy In California
Contemporary Catastrophes

By Gil A. Cowan

This is Ben Franklin's birthday. As foremost American printer of the revolutionary days, as a scientist and inventor, and as an exponent of thrift, as well as a plenipotentiary extraordinary, we remember him on the two hundred and sixteenth anniversary of his birth as Poor Richard, almanack maker and useful citizen.

Benjamin Franklin was an unusual character in his day. His kite-flying, his wisdom in worldly affairs, his improved stoves, his system of street cleaning, his ability to get things done in a humble, honest way, caused him to rise high in the estimation of his fellow men, yet he was a plebeian citizen, who cared not for power, or pomp, or pelf.

In the writings of Franklin there was an outstanding lesson which has been proved invaluable in the lives of thousands of politicians and business men who followed his methods of indirect action. Briefly, it was this:

Desiring a favor from a particular personage in pre-revolutionary days, Franklin did not essay to boldly ask it. He first met the man and casually asked him for some trivial thing which was not to be refused. A few days later he took more privilege, and made another bid for something, which was forthcoming. After several weeks' acquaintanceship he finally asked the favor he sought, and it was granted. Slow, but sure, he had learned to creep before he walked. He showed the ability of the diplomat which he was later to be.

But Franklin never was in a hurry, or at least he appeared to be disposed to take his time about everything. He is attributed with the copybook phrase of "Haste makes waste." He also laid down the simple rule of economics that "A penny saved is a penny earned."

Another anniversary celebrated this week is that of prohibition. It has had four years' trial. No matter what you think there is still booze and booze stills.

Intoxicants today are most dangerous, but there are those who are willing to take a chance. Personally, were we inclined to drink, none of the stuff we have seen would be the least bit tempting. No indeed, for we are not courting blindness at this age. And if we simply desired to become paralyzed we might undergo an operation for appendicitis or some other popular form of an ether jag.

It appeals to the writer, however, that the diet of the nation should be made to conform with the loss of alcohol in the system. Many learned to eat too much in the days when liquor was served with meals at the best cafes. We should be temperate in all things, particularly in eating too much meat, too much rich, starchy food, too much sweet stuff and the like.

And those who used to depend on their daily dozen of drinks to provide perspiration should now resort to a daily dozen of exercises.

California is particularly fortunate in having a climate where living and eating should be a joy. Anyone in Glendale will attest that, we believe.

In the first place, there are the country clubs, the all-year recreation, the hills to climb, the sunshine, to make life worth while.

Then we have green foods the whole year 'round. Think of eating fresh head lettuce in January without paying five prices for it! The fruits and vegetables and nuts keep well here where they abound. Eating is a pleasure, not a problem.

It is a big factor in bringing tourists here. They get a luncheon for less than a dollar that would cost them twice the money in the east. The evening dinner every day is comparable to a banquet, yet the price is small. We should advertise the fact, for the quickest way to reach a man's heart, it is said, is through the stomach.

The world had hardly recovered from the news of the first Japanese earthquake than along comes another and knocks things galley-west in the flowery kingdom.

Stories are still being told of the wreck of the French dirigible, the Dixmude, with forty aboard, when along come reports today of the Shenandoah, America's airship, being adrift with a score of lives at stake.

On the eve of the polar flight by the United States navy it may be an ominous warning of the deadfalls ahead.

Who knows but that the occurrences of today are but lesser catastrophes, good fortune in disguise?

Dealer Will Attend Jordan Conference

H. N. Burton, head of the H. N. Burton company, 306 East Colorado street, will leave for the east Friday evening to attend a conference of Jordan dealers at the factory at Cleveland. He will make the trip from here in a private car engaged by the Jordan Company to carry the sixteen Southern California dealers, and the entire trip will be at the expense of the company. Mr. Burton expects to be away about two weeks, and will take occasion to visit the Velie factory at Moline, also, his company here being agent for both Jordan and Velie cars.

Charles II brought Newmarket to full glory as a racing center after the Restoration, and he was the only king who rode races there.

BURBANK

PLAN INSTITUTE FOR SCOUT WORK

Three Day Training Period To Be Conducted Under Committee Members

A three-day training institute in Boy Scout work opens at 7:30 o'clock tonight, January 17, at the Thomas A. Edison school.

Leonard F. Collins, superintendent of the city schools, heads the committee that has arranged and is in charge of the institute. The other members are Dr. Frank Tillson, Wilbur S. Sandison and Dr. P. E. Zeiss.

The address of welcome at tonight's session will be delivered by Dr. A. E. Yale and the address of the evening will come from Rev. Thomas E. Stevenson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Round-table discussion will be led by E. B. Thomas, principal of the John Muir Junior High school, when ways and means for interesting representative citizens in Boy Scout work will be discussed.

H. R. Cheeseman of Glendale, Verdugo Hills Boy Scout executive, will have direct charge of the training.

11,400 Live in Burbank

From at least one way of computing population, 11,400 people now live in Burbank. That way is to base a computation on the number of light meters installed.

Burbank has 2,800 of these in operation at the present time, reports F. Curt Miller, city engineer. Multiplying by the customary fraction of 4 7-10 brings the total to the above mentioned figure.

The correct schedule of bus line return trips from Hollywood, during the afternoon, is: 12:35, 2:35, 3:40, 4:45, 5:50, 6:55, 8, 9:35 and 11:35.

The broken leg of F. G. Faulkner of the Moreland company is still causing him trouble, owing to the peculiar way the bones were broken. The accident was caused when he cranked his machine with the gears engaged, the car leaping forward and pinning him against the car ahead.

Auto Club Issues Licenses

California licenses for 1924 are now being issued by L. E. Mock of the Glendale branch, Automobile Club of Southern California, who has made his temporary headquarters at the Nicholson garage, San Fernando boulevard and Magnolia avenue, the club's official garage in this city.

Office hours at this location are from 10 o'clock in the morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon, daily, and all members of the club should avail themselves of this opportunity to get their 1924 licenses direct.

There is no charge for the service, Mr. Mock states. The fee on vehicles not operated for profit is $3. Commercial licenses may be obtained here also, the fee varying with the vehicle.

EAGLE ROCK

HONOR BUTTONS REVEAL THRIFTY

Pupils Opening Savings Bank Account Decorated With Insignia

Report cards of Eagle Rock students having honor buttons will be stamped "Has school savings bank account."

Honor buttons are given to every child opening a savings account of $1 or more, states C. W. Preston, principal of the Eagle Rock school, and adds that the children are quick to respond to this new thrift campaign, twenty applying for the accounts on one day.

"It is well known that principles inculcated in the child mind remain through life, and should the principle of thrift be so inculcated," says Mr. Preston, "it would mean a greater America tomorrow."

Another instance of the advanced methods of education being employed in the schools of this district is seen in the recent pilgrimage of pupils of Baliff McNary to the public library, where they heard a talk on "Good Citizenship" by Mrs. Gardiner.

Some of the "old-timers" who have long advocated "book larnin'" as exemplified in the three R's are beginning to sit up and take notice at the modern methods employed in twentieth century city schools and are concluding that these methods are making for a better citizenship.

Local Notes

Mothers and pupils of the 8A classes met with the Garvanza Parent-Teacher Association this afternoon and heard an inspiring talk by M. Moore, principal of the Franklin High school.

Mrs. Josephine Rowan, who died January 1, 1924, at the home of Charles Burlando on North Royal drive, is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Burlando and Mrs. James Moorkens, both of Eagle Rock.

"The American Indian" will be the subject of a lecture at the Eagle Rock school auditorium the night of January 21, by Dr. Comstock of the Southwest museum. Dr. Comstock, who is one of the best informed men in California on that subject, comes at the instance of the San Rafael Hills chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Personal Notes

Walter B. Montgomery, brother of Secretary Donnell G. Montgomery of the local Chamber of Commerce, has been chosen secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Bell, Calif.

PRESENT PROTEST ON SERUM PLAN

Parents of School Pupils Offer Strong Objection To 'Shick Test'

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication, copies of which have been sent, it is stated, to the City Council, Board of Education and Board of Health:

Glendale, Cal.,
Jan. 11, 1924.

To the City Council, Board of Education, Board of Health of the City of Glendale:

Gentlemen:—

Our attention has been called to the proposed Shick test by the Board of Health. This for the purpose of determininig whether the children in our schools are immune or susceptible to diphtheria infection. If susceptible, according to report followiing proposed Shick test, serum treatments are to be given at so much per series at the parents' expense.

The Broadway Fathers' Auxiliary and the Parent-Teachers' association of Broadway school have the children's welfare and best interests of the children at heart. We therefore cannot consent to either the proposed Shick test or serum treatments except upon the advice or at the hands of our own family or school physician. Further, we wish to be placed upon record as absolutely opposed to any future radical movement affecting Broadway district—especially when said movements are attempted without our consent or knowledge

The Broadway district is watching carefully all that is being done for the welfare of Glendale and is proud of her advancement. At the same time there must be movements which do not meet with the approval of many Glendale citizens. We strive to prevent and correct these, and you will find the Broadway Fathers' Auxiliary and the Parent-Teachers' association anxious and willing at all times to co-operate with all departments for the betterment of our fast-growing city.

You are cordially invited to attend our regular meetings held in Broadway auditorium each month. It would be worth while for you to be represented regularly at these meetings. We solicit suggestions and have many times entertained various speakers who have had special messages they wished to carry to the people in Broadway district.

Thanking you for giving this your immediate attention so that unnecessary friction or unpleasantness cannot arise at Broadway school, we are,

Yours for a Greater and Better Glendale,
Parent-Teachers Association,
MRS. MARY REESE,
President.
MRS. K. V. KUGLER,
Secretary.
Broadway Fathers' Auxiliary,
R. MARSHALL FERGUSON,
President
CHESTER R. RETTBERG,
Secretary.

Los Angeles' Executive Pays Friendly Visit to Glendale City Officials

The presence of Boyle Workman, acting mayor of Los Angeles, at the meeting of the City Council this morning created quite a bit of comment at the city hall. He visited the Glendale body while they were in committee of the whole prior to the open session, and the reason for his call is a "deep mystery."

The councilmen maintain that it had no special significance, that he was merely paying a friendly visit. He left before the adjournment of the closed session.

Only business of a routine nature was brought before the council this morning. A number of ordinances relative to street improvement work were offered.

Protest Schick Test

A joint communication from the Broadway fathers' auxiliary and the Broadway Parent-Teacher association was read, protesting against the Schick test for school children being given under the supervision of Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer. They stated that, although they did not wish to stand in the way of any progressive movement that would safeguard the health of the children, they felt that this test should be recommended by the family physician or school surgeon before it was adopted. The petition was signed by R. Marshall Ferguson, president, and Chester R. Rettberg, secretary, of the auxiliary, and Mrs. Mary Reese and Mrs. K. V. Kugler, president and secretary, respectively, of the Parent-Teacher association.

The question of setting aside as a commercial district Campbell street north from Dryden to the city limits, came up again, and was the subject for a lively discussion by various residents of that part of the city. The city attorney was finally instructed to draft the necessary amendment to the city ordinance, and it can be threshed out when this comes up for hearing.

Would Bar Trucking

Steps will be taken to prevent heavy trucking on Western avenue, in compliance with the city ordinance governing this, at the request of J. H. Randall, 1146 Western avenue, special policeman for this district. He complained that the truck drivers would pay no attention to his orders. The matter will be taken up with Chief of Police John D. Fraser with a view to sending a regular officers to this district.

The annual report of Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city health officer, showing 729 births and 423 deaths in Glendale during 1923, as well as other vital statistics, was read and filed.

BIG DOLLAR DAY AT FERBER STORE

Splendid Offerings to Go On Sale Friday; Crowd Is Sure to Attend

Ferber's store at Broadway and Maryland avenue is becoming more deeply rooted than ever in the business activity of Glendale, for the new store building admits of a much larger service than was possible in the old location.

Ever since the opening in the new location every day has been an interesting one for shoppers in the new store.

Now comes the announcement of the first great dollar day sale in the new building, tomorrow, Friday.

Every item listed today in their display advertising columns of The Glendale Evening News, is a bargain and Glendalians are urged to "Come Early!"

In every department there will be splendid offerings, each at one dollar and the sales event promises to be a record-breaking one.

The store hours are from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. and a big sales force will be on hand at an early hour to prepare for serving the big crowds that will throng the store.

More than 9,000,000 pounds of bread and rolls are made every week by the bakers in one middle western city.

ARTISTS TO GIVE CONCERT ON KHJ

'End of the Rainbow' Program to Recall Honors in Rose Tournament

An echo of Glendale's honors in the 1924 Tournament of Roses is to be the "End of the Rainbow Concert" to be broadcasted Saturday night from 8 o'clock on from the KHJ station in Los Angeles.

Harry James has arranged the program, to be given by Glendale artists, and local radio fans will recall that just one year ago he gave a "Peacock program," celebrating Glendale's showing in the 1923 Tournament in Pasadena.

On Saturday night the program will be given by the Glendale male quartet, including Dr. P. O. Lucas, first tenor; Paul Butterfield, second tenor; Frank Butterfield, first base; Dr. C. R. Lusby, second bass, with Mrs. Paul Butterfield, accompanist.

The Glendale stringed trio, including Mrs. Gertrude Champlain Erb, pianist; J. Arthur Myers, 'cellist, and Julius Kranz, violinist.

Mr. Myers will also give vocal solos and Mr. Kranz will play three of his own compositions on the violin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Girard will give baritone and soprano solos and duets, and Mr. James monologues and dialogues with Uncle John.

During the children's hour, from 6:45 till 7:30 o'clock, Mrs. James will entertain the kiddies with stories.

NEW LINKS STAR WINS ON GREENS

Mac Donald Smith Tells How He Scored Victory In Battle For Title

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—"Breaks on the putting greens gave me the title."

Thus did Macdonald Smith, new California open golf champion, today sum up his victory in the greatest tournament ever staged on the Pacific coast, which came to an end yesterday on the north course of the Los Angeles country club.

"Putting was the deciding factor," said Smith. "All the greens were exceptionally fast and due to my luck in getting the breaks on long ones, especially on the first eighteen holes of play, I lay credit for my victory.

"Off the greens I played steady, consistent golf, but it was on the greens where my scoring counted most."

Eddie Loose, runner-up to Smith, finished with 296, while the winner had 295, gave the San Francisco star full credit for his victory.

State Treasurer of W. C. T. U. Will Speak

Rev. Charles H. Tilden, assistant pastor at the First Baptist church, and Mrs. Clara B. Sheldon, state treasurer of the W. C. T. U. are to be speakers tomorrow afternoon at the meeting of the Glendale W. C. T. U. at the First Baptist church celebrating the eighteenth admendment. The meeting is to begin at 2 o'clock. There will be vocal numbers by Mrs. Eva Bentley.

RESCUED FROM WRECK

NEW YORK, Jan. 17. — The Danish freighter Normannia is aground and pounding to pieces off Norfolk today, according to wireless messages received at the Mallory line today from the steamship Henry R. Mallory, which rescued the captain's wife and twenty members of the Normannia's crew.

ards of judging are strict and numerous feline favorites at the current exhibit have fallen down before her critical eyes.

Another magnificent cat revealed by this show is Barbe Bleue Khani of Mrs. Eva Harris, 812 North Andrews boulevard, Los Angeles, adjudged best blue male in the show. This magnificent animal is only eighteen months old and has by no means attained his full growth. He was best cat in the recent Pasadena show and ran Powder Puff Chimes a close race in the present instance. Great things are predicted for this beautiful blue cat in the next year or two.

It is expected that tonight will witness even greater crowds at the Cat Show than last night's record throng.

DEPT. PRESIDENT AT INSTALLATION

Auxiliary of Spanish War Veterans Induct New Officials

Mrs. Anna B. Jessmire, department president of Spanish-American War Auxiliaries of California, was the central figure last night at the installation in the Knights of Pythias hall on South Brand boulevard of officers of the Women's Auxiliary, No. 36, of Camp No. 67.

Mrs. Mary R. Hill, retiring president, directed the meeting, and Mrs. Jessmire, as installing officer, was assisted by the drill team from the Auxiliary of Roosevelt camp, Los Angeles

Those installed were Mrs. Martha Warren, president; Mrs. Alberta Merrihew, senior vice-president; Mrs. Lena Pike, junior vice-president; Mrs. L. Peters, chaplain; Mrs. Rose Harness, conductor; Mrs. Helen Wilder, associate conductor; Mrs. E. Young, guard; Mrs. Ross Handel, assistant guard; Mrs. Beulah Vose, historian; Mrs. H G. Brown, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, secretary; Mrs. Sophie L. Gray, treasurer.

Guests of Honor

Special guests were Mrs. Jessmire; Mrs. Carrie L. Crouse, national patriotic instructor; Mrs. Lillie Archer, past department president; Mrs. Carrie Hurd, past department president of Massachusetts; Mrs. Eva Stevens, department chaplain of St. Louis, Mo; Mrs. Joseph Weber, president of Admiral Glass Auxiliary of Los Angeles. Each of these gave a word of greeting.

Other speakers were L. D. Pike, commander of the Glendale camp, and W. H. Reeves, past commander of the Glendale camp.

During the informal part of the evening bouquets were presented to Mesdames Jessmire, Warren, Hill, Gray. Mrs. Bertha E. Martin, past president of the Auxiliary of Roosevelt camp, who is called the godmother of the Glendale auxiliary, was unable to be present because of illness, and she was sent a bouquet.

Mesdames Warren, Hall and Gray were members of the social committee, serving refreshments.

FORBES SAYS INVESTING PUBLIC LIKES TO BECOME ASSOCIATED WITH THE WINNERS

By B. C. FORBES

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—Nothing succeeds like success. People like to become associated with winners.

Investors naturally are attracted by companies that are doing well, by companies that are making money and paying dividends.

* * *

MOST companies that are growing need more capital from time to time; in other words, they need additional investors.

As this country expands and progresses, the probability is that the demand for capital will become keener and keener.

* * *

CAN anything be done that is not now done by successful companies to bring themselves to the favorable notice of people with money to invest in enterprises earning satisfactory profits?

May I offer one suggestion?

* * *

I have never been able to comprehend why corporations that distribute millions of dollars every year among stockholders utterly fail to capitalize the fact.

Most of them issue such diminutive dividend notices that you would think they were ashamed to have it become known that their securities were dividend paying investments.

* * *

I rather think this fossilized practice springs from the mistaken notion that it is politic to not draw attention to a concern's profits.

The truth is, that the public has more regard for a successful organization. Nobody wants to have anything to do with losers.

* * *

After all, every man who becomes an investor in a good company, is thereby helped to become a better citizen.

LET ME SHOW YOU A REAL HOME

You will be impressed the moment you enter its artistic lawn, the little fish pond, fountain, shrubbery and sunken garden effect, with complete sprinkling system that can be operated in a moment.

On the cement front porch you open the massive mahogany front door, into the large living room finished in real mahogany; you recognize the comfortable home atmosphere of a REAL HOME; the broad mahogany and tile mantel over a real fireplace and side book cases, wall lights, center and border ceiling lights; glimpse the den or music room on the left, the spacious dining room with its beautiful mahogany buffet and French doors opening on the cement side porch; the complete kitchen, with tile sinks, cupboards, cabinets, cooler and breakfast nook just beyond.

Two large bedrooms ample closets, large well arranged bath room with tile floor, cabinets and best of fixtures. You will have noticed, also, the polished oak floors throughout; the automatic gas heater in fireplace, radiators in dining room, bath room and bedrooms; also the automatic hot water heater, etc.

Last, but not least, the lot is 50x150 feet, facing on Broadway, the direct thoroughfare from the center of Glendale to Eagle Rock, within one block of the new high school. This lot is CERTAIN to more THAN DOUBLE IN VALUE in the next three years. PONDER OVER THAT. Let me show you this Spanish stucco home and you will be convinced. Price for immediate sale only $11,000, one-half cash. C. C. Shimer, 106 East Wilson. Telephone Glendale 68.

S-O-S NEWBYGRAMS

STUCCO
English Colonial

Large homey living room, artistic and real fireplace; large English windows and writing desk.

Sunny well-arranged dining room, front bedroom, exceptionally large and cheerful; the kind you would expect in a $25,000 home.
Back Bedroom is arranged so when you awake in the morning you get a wonderful mountain view, it has a service hall connecting a modern bath and the front bedroom.
The Kitchen—Take a tip from the writer, and get your wife this model of a kitchen—just oodles of shelves, cupboards and drawers, two coolers and the niftiest little breakfast room you ever punished an egg on toast in; screen porch, automatic heater modern and new throughout, nice street, fine homes and neighbors. Fooled you didn't we, you thought this must be awfully expensive. Price $8000; only $2000 cash, balance like rent.

NOTICE OF TRUSTEE'S SALE
Whereas, Charles H. Ambrosch and Anna M. Ambrosch, his wife, by a deed of trust dated October 24, 1922, recorded November 17, 1922, in Book 1622, page 77, Official Records, Los Angeles County, California, did grant and convey the premises therein and hereinafter described to C. F. Seccombe, as trustee, to secure, among other things, the payment of a certain promissory note made to the order of M. L. Vickers; and
Whereas, default has been made in the payment of said promissory note, and the said M. L. Vickers has demanded that said trustee sell the premises granted by said deed of trust.
Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that the undersigned, by virtue of the authority vested in him as trustee, and in accordance with the terms and under the authority of said deed of trust, will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash in gold coin of the United States, on Saturday, the 9th day of February, 1924, at the hour of 11 A. M., of the sale date at the Broadway entrance of the County Court House, located on North Broadway, in the City of Los Angeles, State of California, the interest conveyed to her by the aforesaid deed of trust in and to the real property therein described, situated in the City of Glendale County of Los Angeles, State of California, described as follows:
North fifty (50) feet of the West half of Lot Seventeen (17) of Oliver's West Glendale Tract, as per map recorded in Book 9, page 58 of Maps, records of said County, except the west 20 feet thereof.
Sale will be made subject to mortgage of record for $1100.00.
C. F. SECCOMBE, Trustee.
Jan. 17-24-31-Feb. 7.

LA CRESCENTA

JUBILEE SINGERS TO GIVE CONCERT

Famous Vocal Artists Coming to Stage Concert at Community Church

The famous Suwanee Jubilee Singers, under the management of Edith Wales of Los Angeles, will give a program at the La Crescenta Community church on West Montrose avenue, Friday night of this week at 8 o'clock. This chorus enjoys an excellent reputation of being not only capable singers, but humorists of the best class.

The program will consist of plantation melodies, negro folk and jubilee songs, and who is there who doesn't enjoy hearing a good, old-fashioned darkey melody by typical down south darkies? Led by John Hall (basso), who originally organized the chorus and has had twenty years' successful platform experience, the Jubilee Singers have toured the country most successfully.

The tenor, Harris Longress, is reputed to have an excellent voice and is unsurpassable in his solo work. The second tenor, Charles White, is not only a splendid vocalist, but has an enviable reputation as a pianist. Roy Albright, baritone, has a voice which shows to splendid advantage in sacred music. Mrs. Lolo Williams, who is the accompanist for this gifted group, has a beautiful voice of clear quality. Miss Ruth Lee is the contralto of the chorus, making popular songs and music her specialty.

The singers come well recommended and have filled several engagements at the Ambassador hotel, and also have sung for Rev. Whitcomb Brougher, who refers to them as "Crackerjacks."

The tickets are 50 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

Come out, bring your family, get your neighbors and their families to come too. Don't let it be said that La Crescenta didn't turn out to hear the well-known Jubilee Singers.

Fire Menaces Homes

Fire of unknown origin threatened the residence district on Altura street for a short time yesterday. The garage of Mrs. Valentine Findlay's home burst into flame, when the wind was at its height. As there are a number of homes built on the end of their acreage in this neighborhood, it can readily be seen why the danger was so great. The prompt response of the fire department saved the surrounding homes, but the garage was a total loss.

Mrs. Findlay lost a quantity of beautiful household linen she had brought back with her on her last trip abroad, also a number of fine white wool blankets. It is expected that now this community has voted for the fire district, our protection will be more adequate, and indeed it must be on account of the increase in the number of homes.

The Women's Service League and Missionary society gave a most successful food sale at Bowlus' grocery recently.

The good, old-fashioned home cooked foods found such a ready sale that the ladies had nothing left in two hours.

Plan Fathers' Night

On Friday night, January 25, the members of the Parent-Teachers' association will give a Fathers' night. Poor father doesn't often get a chance to shine at a party in his honor, but on this particular evening he will be quite the star of the occasion.

The speaker for the evening will be the well-known Glendalian, Dr. Clifford Cole of the Christian church. His subject and the program for the evening will be announced later.

Those on the community sick list, who are recovering from after Christmas indispositions are, Mrs. Mark S. Collins, R. Hendrix of the local bank, and little Miss Joy Whillock.

"Daddy" Carpenter Ill

Mr. Carpenter, the best loved man in the community of Montrose and La Crescenta, is very ill, and the children of both schools are sad over the absence of dear Daddy Carpenter. The kindliest man, the one who, no doubt, has watched your kiddies start school, soothed their tears on their first awful day at school and laughed with them over their fun, comforted them when hurt in play and watched them step off the stage of the eighth grade world into the great unknown high school. All the community feels sorry to know this courteous, white-haired gentleman is ill—and all hope with his charming and popular wife, he will soon join us at all our civic gatherings once more.

A correction of the date of the Montrose Community dance—"Sheet and Pillow Case" is in order. The date is to be February 2, instead of the one published, January 19.

This affair, under the management of the popular Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, is to be given in the La Crescenta school auditorium, and will be of the fun-making variety. The proceeds will go to the Community Fire fund. This is for the whole valley and all are cordially invited to attend attired in a sheet and pillow case.

Occidental Freshmen Will Feast Tonight

The freshman Class of Occidental will have a feast in the College Commons tonight, the occasion being a "get acquainted" banquet for the entire frosh class. Every one of the unsophisticated peagreeners will be there and a lively time is in store. Miss Josephine Stellar, the vice-president of the class, is very busy planning for the frosh feast and she has surprises galore.

Night Classes Will Stay In Present Study Rooms In High School Building

There will be no break in the Glendale Union Evening High school work on account of the move to be made into the new building between semesters, states A. L. Ferguson, principal of the night school. Arrangements have already been definitely made to carry on the work in the present study rooms in the East Harvard street building, and there is no reason for anyone hesitating to register in any of the courses thinking they might have to give up the work on this account.

"The location of the present plant is very convenient and the equipment is especially adapted to take care of the evening school work in a very comfortable way," says Mr. Ferguson.

A new class in salesmanship has been organized and meets on Monday and Wednesday nights from 8 until 9 o'clock. From the attendance registered, this course is meeting with the hearty approval of Glendale merchants and their employes, but there is still room for more, states Mr. Ferguson. The nature of the work is such that a large class will in no way be a handicap in conducting the studies. All persons who are interested in this line of work, engaged in it, or desire to learn the fundamental principles of selling, should enroll at once in order to get the full value of the course.

Spanish Classes

A new class has also been formed in Spanish, in which thirty new scholars were enrolled this week. No other course offering beginner's lessons in Spanish will be started this year, so any one who wishes to take up this work must enter now. This class meets on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Due to the requests received since the holidays, the commercial work has been rearranged so as ot start a new class in beginning shorthand. This, also, will be the only class started in this subject this year, and is one of the subjects in which a student who does not enter at the commencement of the course has very little opportunity to get anything out of the work. Those interested in taking up beginner's shorthand, Gregg system, should report tonight or next Tuesday night, at 7 o'clock. Students in this class may also enroll in the typing class which meets on the same nights as the shorthand class, from 8 until 9 o'clock.

Course in Forge Work

One course that has been very popular with those enrolled is the forge work in the mechanical arts department. The equipment is ample and the fundamental work given, leading up to practical machine shop work, is very valuable. For those who do not care to go into the machine shop work, a special course in ornamental iron work is offered.

James E. Clark, in charge of this work, is an expert in his line, and under his direction an opportunity is offered that has never been duplicated in Glendale. This class meets on Monday and Wednesday evenings in the mechanical arts building from 7 until 9 o'clock.

Sewing classes which meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 until 9 o'clock, are open to new members. Practical work in sewing and dressmaking is taken up by the students.

The lip reading class, which meets at 2:30 in the afternoon on Mondays and Wednesdays, under the supervision of Miss Rice, has been very successful.

WHY THEY COME TO COAST TOLD

Employes of G. & M. Line Give Reasons for Their Migration Westward

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Why do people come to California? It is a question that intrigues us all, for they keep coming by the thousands. They come here seeking health, work, happiness and climate, of course, yet every one has a little different story to tell.

Preston L. Hatch, general manager of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company, at the annual banquet of his employes Tuesday night, asked each and every one of them to give their native state and cause for coming to California.

Several Native Sons

New York and Illinois scored heavily, although there were representatives among the thirty-six present from Maine to California. Among the younger men several were native Californians. Of course, they are here through no fault of theirs. And they know of no better state, either.

With those who immigrated west the reason was principally climate. The blizzards of 1888 were determining factors in sending two families from the prairie states, it was recounted, and no doubt the present cold winter in the middle west and south will start thousands more to California and the coast.

Land of Opportunity

One Oklahoman tritely stated that after working most of his life in the coal mines of that state he was only too glad to leave. From Mississippi a shell-shocked world war veteran turned to the balmy, dry climate of the southwest in the land of the setting sun.

Others consider this the land of opportunity; they vision the future in the years before them and all are more than satisfied with their employment. It was an altogether different story than one would expect to hear from a railroad crew in any part of the country.

California has treated its newcomers well, according to their own stories. It has given them the opportunity of having

A peaceful little haven in the hills.
Where happiness and contentment abound.
Where the sun shines the whole year 'round.
Where flowers and fruits flourish in the ground.
Where love and life and laughter is found.

Demand Report On Anti-Trust Law Suits

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.— Attorney-General Daugherty was called upon in a resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, today to report immediately upon his activities in prosecuting anti-trust law violators.

King charged that the Federal Trade Commission had reported fifty violations and that the department of justice had instituted action in only two of these cases.

The resolution asked specifically why no indictments had been sought and why injunction proceedings had not been started against violators of anti-trust laws.

COMPANY SCORES 'WITH SOME BABY'

Royal Players In Rollicking Comedy Win Praises Of Big Audience

The Tuesday Afternoon club theatre at Central avenue and Lexington drive rocked with laughter last night, as a good audience enthusiastically received the Royal Stock company's latest histrionic offering, "Some Baby," which proved to be one of the funniest farce comedies that has ever come out of the east.

The basic situation giving rise to the humorous complications is the discovery by Dr. Relyea (played by James E. Dillon), of an elixir of youth, three teaspoonfuls of which will make an old man young again. When an empty bottle of this magic fluid is found on the table and a howling infant found on the sofa, the natural inference is that The General (played by William Chapman), has taken an overdose.

Complications Start

And when another empty bottle of this high-voltage liquid is later found on the same table, and another baby on the same sofa, the next natural inference is that Silvia (played by Edythe Elliott), has likewise taken an overdose.

To go on from this point and reveal the many and amazing complications of the whirlwind third act, and how they are at last untangled, would be a breach of theatrical good faith. Suffice to say that "Some Baby" is a thumping good play and the Royal Stock company are to be congratulated for the capable way they get through it.

The play will be given tonight, Friday and Saturday nights, at 8:20 o'clock, with a 2:30 o'clock Saturday matinee. Next week, Manager Royal announces, the attraction will be "When a Man Marries," and "Lombardi, Ltd.," will be on the boards at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre in the near future, with a big Fashion Show as an added attraction.

ABRAMS INSTITUTE SWEPT BY FLAMES

Surgical Equipment Burned In $75,000 Blaze at Electronic Branch

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—Fire early today swept through a building at 640 South Vernon avenue which housed the Electronic institute, headed by the late Dr. Albert Abrams, of San Francisco. Damage estimated at $75,000 was done by the blaze, which was extinguished after several fire companies had answered the call. The entire second floor of the structure was destroyed. Valuable furniture, X-ray machines, dynamos, surgical instruments and other costly paraphernalia were burned.

Miss Rose Libra, caretaker at the place, was endangered by the flames. It was declared that last night was the first night in several months that several patients had not slept at the institution.

Crossed wires are believed to have started the fire.

LA CRESCENTA

HOLD COMMUNITY SINGING TONIGHT

Everyone Invited to Attend Neighborhood Rally At School House

Don't forget, tonight is the night the community sing is to be held in the La Crescenta schoolhouse.

As this is for the entire valley's pleasure, and certain public-spirited citizens have given a tremendous amount of their time and energy for the good cause, why not just run in and sing at least a couple of the old songs with them? You'll feel cheerier and full of community pride, no doubt, when you leave, and you'll have cause to be, if you do your share in swelling the chorus.

Bring the whole family and your neighbor and his family and show the world this community is on the map for civic betterment, neighborly spirit and uplift of every kind. Mrs. A. F. Hopkins, that energetic manager of the community sing, has one or two surprises up her sleeve, but you're not to know any other way than by attending. Mr. Prosper of Glendale will be on hand to lead, and do let us appreciate his coming up here by having a chorus large enough to encourage him to come again. Tonight, at the school auditorium, at 8 o'clock, and promptly.

Mrs. E. Burkey is visiting in Oklahoma City with her daughter for a few weeks.

Buy Decorations

Mrs. C. W. Angier, Mrs. K. Rhinehart and Mrs. Ward Van Duesen have, as the committee appointed to act in this capacity, chosen the curtains and wings for the school house auditorium stage. The curtains will be of monk's cloth, with a suitable stencil to bring out the tones, while the escalloped edge of the top drop will be fringed with black. The curtains will, it is hoped, be up in time for the February graduation exercises.

The Parent-Teacher association has been assisted in the purchase of the curtains by the Women's club, which donated $25 to the good cause.

Tomorrow night is the big night. Everyone is anxiously waiting to hear the famous jubilee singers. Arthur Cox, assistant Boy Scout master, has heard them at intervals during the last eight years, and says he can recommend them very highly. It is expected to add quite a sum to the Community church fund by the concert.

Plan "Paper Drive"

A paper drive is to be given in the interest of the Parent-Teacher association's ways and means committee. These ladies ask the residents of the valley to save all their old papers and magazines, and by letting Mr. Blanford or Mrs. C. W. Angier know you have them, a truck will call to take care of them for you. The proceeds will go to the Parent-Teacher association fund, as the new curtains will cost a rather substantial sum.

Friends of Mrs. Henry Fowler are glad to welcome her back again. The Fowlers, who own the corner on Los Angeles avenue from Piedmont to Honolulu, did not come west last winter, but those who met them previous to that date are delighted to know they intend to spend the winter here, at least.

It was decided at the Women's club special meeting yesterday afternoon to put on a drive almost at once for building funds. The plans are to open the drive with a large dinner, and get everyone enthusiastic over the clubhouse, which is very much needed up here. The drive is in charge of the very capable Mrs. G. Aiken, who, we are all sure, will make a splendid success of the affair.

Mr. Creith, the architect, who so graciouslly contributes his time and skill for the benefit of the club, showed a fine set of plans for the proposed building. Mr. Creith will draw up some other plans for consideration before everything is decided on definitely.

Mrs. MacDonald suggested some very excellent means of raising money for the building fund, one being to sell bonds and another to hold competition food sales in the opposite ends of town. No doubt the ladies will adopt these, and other very fine suggestions made by Mrs. Sluteman.

A letter read from Mrs. Toplift, concert pianiste, stated she would not, at this date, give her musical program portraying the history of music.

On the last day of this month Mrs. C. Haskins, Mrs. Sluteman and Mrs. Louise Erwin will give a silver tea for the building fund. All are cordially invited to attend, whether members or not.

On Mrs. Mary B. Darrow's motion, which was unanimously accepted, flowers will be sent to the well-loved "Daddy" Carpenter, with a letter of cheer for Mrs. Carpenter, who is a popular club member.

BACHELORS' TAX IS BEING URGED

Next Legislature Will Be Asked for Law Penalizing Single Blessedness

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 17.—Bachelors in California will be the subjects of a special tax if a measure advocated by such men as Emerson Read, chairman of the laws and legislation committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Irvin Engler, secretary of the commerce chamber, becomes law in the next legislature.

Read advocates the tax on bachelors because "the state needs the money; unmarried women need husbands; unmarried men earn as much as married men" and because "Americans must guard against race suicide such as that now cutting the population of France."

Read, who is a banker by profession, defines a bachelor as "any sound-minded, able-bodied man, who has passed the age of 28 years," and still is heart-free.

Engler favors the bill on the ground that bachelors dodge their responsibility to the nation and impose undue burdens in the matter of taxation on married men with no larger incomes.

MAN SUES COUNTY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—A case of mistaken identity may cost Eldorado county a tidy sum of money, according to word received here at the sheriff's office from Sheriff Charles F. Wood of the northern county.

Some time ago two deputies from here went to Placerville, Eldorado county, on a "hot tip" that Harry Duniap, alleged "badge bandit," was in that city. The man thought to be Dunlap was found and questioned by the officers, but proved to be a private citizen and not the man wanted. According to word received here, he has filed suit against Eldorado county for damages arising out of the episode.

FACES GRAVE CRARGE

PHŒNIX, Ariz., Jan. 17.—Frank A. Vanderstrom, arrested Monday, has waived extradition, and will be returned to Chicago by an officer, now on his way here, to face a $5000 embezzlement charge.

Industries Are Glendale's Greatest Need, Says C. of C. Secretary

CITY OFFERS LOGICAL LOCATION FOR PLANTS

Organization First Plans Survey and Then Will Make Strong Effort to Secure Variety of Good Enterprises

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Industries—Glendale's greatest need—were the subject of an interview given the writer today by E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. With the sewage disposal problem settled the program before this city is clear cut. Employment for the ever increasing population must be assured.

Industries are needed in Southern California, too true; but we already have made a great start. The output of products in Los Angeles county the past year is estimated at one and one quarter billion dollars, figures too large to set in arabic!

Survey Should Be Made First of All

Glendale intends getting its share, according to the program outlined by the Chamber of Commerce, but first of all it will take a survey. It appears that those already established here are flourishing. Two great industrial magnates were visitors in Glendale this week. One is the owner of large steel mills in Pennsylvania who is getting his first insight of western possibilities. The other is a textile man. Both had talks with Mr. Sanders. The latter pointed out reasons why he is going to build a plant in the southwest, which are interesting to know and we only state what he told the local commercial secretary.

First Costs Are Much Less in South

First—Efficient plants may be built here at half the cost of construction in Massachusetts because of climatic conditions. There is no heat problem, no basements for heating plants, no roofs to carry a snow load.

Second—Textile mills, both woolen and cotton, are closer to their source of supply in California than "down east," the wool coming from the intermountain country and South America by direct routes; the cotton coming from Imperial, Coachella, Blythe and Salt River fields.

Third—Profits may be made from the differential in heating plants alone, for here electrical energy and natural gas abound where in the east high priced coal make heat and power expensive.

Salaries Less, Yet Savings Greater

Fourth—Employment conditions are ideal because salaries are less, yet savings are greater, for factory hands do not need the clothing or heat in Southern California which is required in colder climes. Food is cheaper. And thousands of dollars in laundry bills are saved where there is no soot, no grime to smear the atmosphere.

Fifth—Los Angeles and the Pacific ports are closer to many markets by water routes than eastern centers which have to depend on railway freights when harbors are made unsafe for winter traffic.

Glendale Bids For New Enterprises

So you can see why Secretary Sanders believes the industrial era is just beginning. Southern California is due to become the workshop of the nation as well as the playground of the world.

And Glendale as an ideal American city bids for new enterprises, or rather the satisfactory location of old established eastern concerns in the most ideally located industrial section of the west.

Will it get them? Well, Glendale usually gets what it goes after. Let's go!

Yes, Clarice, You May Send Alligators, Horned Toads and Bees By Post

Somebody in Glendale has an alligator farm. At any rate someone shipped a baby alligator from here through the United States mails recently, according to George Hallett, assistant postmaster.

It caused him to look up the rules and regulations on the shipment of such things and he discovered a few things, among which were:

Live alligators, chameleons, horned toads and other harmless or domestic animals which do not require feeding during their journey may be accepted. However, a horned toad doesn't mean a gila monster or other dangerous reptiles.

Bees can be sent buzzing through the United States mails, getting honey, perhaps, out of the sweet words contained in love letters, as long as they are packed in such a manner as to be unable to sting the clerks.

No feathered chickens are acceptable for transportation other than on the same rural route on which the shipment originates. The rural carrier can carry children, if he desires, but they must be weighed in at regular parcel post rates.

Baby chix are mailed to any points within 72 hours' distant, it is said. No cats, dogs, birds or other pets are allowed in the mails.

CHORAL SOCIETY TO MEET TONIGHT

Montrose and La Crescenta Singers Plan Program of Varied Nature

The members of the Montrose and La Crescenta Choral Society will meet tonight, Thursday, January 17, at the La Crescenta school house, it is announced.

A special program has been arranged for the evening, which will include vocal selections by Mayor Spencer Robinson.

The society has secured as director M. D. Prosper of Chicago, and under his direction the members are working on a program for presentation in the near future. The society has gained a number of new members during the last few weeks, both from La Crescenta and Montrose. A cordial invitation is extended to all residents of this locality to become members.

The meetings are held every Thursday night. They are all held at the Montrose school house with the exception of the fourth Thursday of the month, when the rehearsal is held in the La Crescenta school house.

Plans are being made for a dance to be given by the society at the La Crescenta school house on Saturday night, February 9. Further announcement will be made at a later date regarding details for this affair.

MADRIGAL CLUB'S CONCERT, JAN. 22

Talented Musicians to Give First Performance of Current Club Year

The Glendale Madrigal Club, an organization that shares honors with the Glendale Music Club in Glendale musical life, is giving its first concert of the current club year Tuesday night, January 22, in the auditorium at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

Madrigal singers are among the talented musicians of the city, and each year, when their bi-annual concerts are given, local music lovers accord them flattering ovations.

Mrs. Charles A. Parker, director of the club, may well be called "Madrigal mother," for it was at her home July 14, 1919, that the organization came into being, and it was she who suggested that the name Madrigal Club be adopted. All of which recalls some interesting facts about the club.

Early Beginnings

In response to an announcement that a woman's chorus was to be formed a group of Glendale women met at Mrs. Parker's home that afternoon in 1919 and participated in tentative plans. The temporary officers chosen were: Mrs. Opal Greenwalt, president; Mrs. G. D. Roach, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. A. Parker, director; Mrs. J. A. Wright, accompanist.

There were present Mesdames C. A. Parker, H. V. Henry, R. A. Puffer, J. E. Moode, L. N. Hagood, O. E. Von Oven, G. H. Herald, Hartley Shaw, Willis Kimball, Frank Arnold and G. D. Roach.

The first concert of the club was given April 8, 1920, in Pearl Keller's studio.

The club offers splendid opportunity for scientific vocal work, and only singers judged for their ability are accepted as active members.

Mrs. Paul A. Hoffman is president of the club for 1923 and 1924, and the club members pay her high tribute for her successful work in placing the club on a businesslike basis.

Other officers are: Mrs. Helen MacMullin, vice-president; Mrs. H. V. Henry, secretary; Mrs. F. B. Maynard, treasurer; Mrs. C. L.

DELIVERS FIRST REALTY LECTURE

C. D. Thom Opens Educational Program at Meeting of Local Board

The first lecture to be arranged under the educational course prepared by the Glendale Realty Board committee, dealing with the essentials of the real estate business was delivered yesterday at the weekly meeting of the board in the Egyptian Village by Cameron D. Thom, who reviewed the progress that has been made since early times in the handling of real estate transactions, until the profession has been placed on the footing it occupies today.

The real estate man, Mr. Thom said, has been one of the big factors in the building up of practically every city in the country, and the financial connections that he has been able to form have aided in the construction of many homes that would not have been built if the owners had depended on their own resources.

Brokers must keep in touch with the constantly changing values in the realty market, he claimed, and the fact that courts place entire dependence on the verdicts of appraisal boards is evidence that the men in this profession have established themselves on a basis where they hold the respect of the community.

Need of Training

Mr. Thom stressed the need of accurate training in everything pertaining to the real estate business, declaring that the profession has been hampered in the past by having in its ranks many men who have failed at other lines of business and who have then turned to the real estate business.

Geo. D. McGill, chairman of the educational committee, in outlining the course that is to be followed in these lectures, declared that the problems facing the realty broker are increasing in difficulty right along, making it necessary for those who would succeed to post themselves on every angle of their work.

The second and fourth Wednesdays of each month will be devoted to lectures on realty matters, and the next one, on January 30, will be delivered by M. Walters on office organization and management. Mr. McDill read a list of textbooks that will shortly be published on real estate subjects, and it was also stated that

CONFIRM APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The Senate has confirmed the appointment of J. Stanley Webster to be United States judge for the eastern district of Washington.

Will Present Pupil in Piano Recital

Mrs. Eva J. Cunningham of 114 North Orange street is presenting one of her pupils, Marguerite Chappell, in a piano recital Friday night in the First Congregational church on North Central and East Wilson avenues. Assisting will be Ethelwyn Kent, reader.

The program is to begin at 7:45 o'clock and Mrs. Cunningham is inviting all interested to attend. Included in the program will be three groups of piano numbers and three groups of readings.

Marguerite Chappell will play: "Sextette" from "Lucia" (Donizetti); "Indian Lament" (Grunn); "Dance Caprice" (Greig); "Night Song" (Lynn); "Gavotte in B Flat" (Bach); "Serenade" (Schubert); "Santa Ana's Patio" (Strickland); "Polonaise" (Bach); "Melody in G Flat" (Cadman); "Sonata Op. 49, No. 2" (Beethoven); "Early Spring" (Bilbro); "Album Leaf" (Greig); "Slumber Song" (Schumann); "Fauns" (Chaminade).

Trustees Create New Positions in Faculty

The Board of Trustees of Occidental College met at the institution late Monday afternoon, January 14 when they discussed some important plans for the future of Occidental. Among the matters considered and definitely decided is that of the position of dean of the institution. It is more than evident that Dean Thomas G. Hart, dean of men, has a great burden to carry on his shoulders. As dean of men, registrar and professor, Dr. Burt's threefold duties are becoming so enlarged that the trustees of Occidental have passed an amendment dividing the position of dean and creating two new positions.

Dean Thomas G. Burt has been appointed the Dean of Occidental College and will work in conjunction with President R. D. Bird, acting as head of the college during the president's absence. Then there has been created a separate dean of men.

Dr. Robert Clelland, head of the history department at the institution and an alumnus of the Tiger College, has been recommended by the trustees to fill the office of dean of men, still retaining his position in the history department. Dr. Clelland has accepted the appointment.

This amendment goes into effect with the new college year, beginning next September.

Okla. Auto Executive Is Guest in Glendale

G. W. Young of Alva, Okla., president of the Automobile Association of the state of Oklahoma and founder of "Young's Trail" from Alvah to Oklahoma City, is a guest in Glendale, visiting with Mrs. Young at the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry M. Kneller, at 419 West Colorado street, and with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Noble, of 327 North Jackson street.

This is the Youngs' first visit to California and they are delighted with Glendale.

Camp Ground Suit Is Postponed One Week

Assistant City Attorney Leslie R. Tarr, and Attorney W. Claire Anspach, attorney for E. Holland, appeared before Judge Walton J. Wood in Superior court in Los Angeles Tuesday and secured a postponement for one week of the case in which Mr. Holland has asked the court to have the mayor and City Council show cause why they refused to grant him a permit to operate a camp ground at San Fernando road and Riverdale drive.

Attorney Dwight W. Stephenson has been retained as special counsel to assist City Attorney Ray L. Morrow in this case, and will have charge of the case for the city when it is heard. Holland's application for a permit was refused two weeks ago when residents of the adjoining territory objected strenuously to the location of a camp ground at this point.

Missionary to Speak at Chapel Meeting

B. S. Moore, returned missionary from Japan, is to speak tonight at 7:45 o'clock at Bethel chapel at 633 East Colorado street. His subject will be "The Great Earthquake in Japan." Mr. Moore was in Japan at the time of the quake last September. He and his wife escaped miraculously.

Want Pepper Boughs to Decorate Hotel

Graceful boughs from Glendale's shaggy pepper trees are to advertise Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City in the United States," in Salt Lake City, Utah.

This fact was disclosed this morning by C. A. Redmond, local Union Pacific agent, who stated that he had just received a telegram from Hotel Utah in the Mormon city, asking that he ship pepper boughs for decorations for a special big event to be held shortly.

Mr. Redmond has taken the matter up with the city street department, and, in view of the fact that many trees are being sacrificed for the furtherance of street work about the city, the desired boughs will doubtless be on their way soon.

Newcomers Organize Real Estate Concern

The real estate firm of Newton, Thompson & Trigg has been formed to take over the business formerly conducted by Harry M. Miller at 213 North Brand boulevard. A general real estate business will be conducted. The firm members are O. M. Newton, who has resided in Glendale for several months; T. B. Thompson, who came here from Visalia fifteen days ago and has spent most of his time since then superintending the building of a five-room bungalow on his lot at 521 West Lexington drive, and H. B. Trigg, who came from Long Beach with his family a couple of weeks ago and is now living at 525 West Salem street.

Three Years' Lease for Root-Beer Stand

Real estate dealers on North Brand boulevard are of the opinion that a new record has been set in rental values by the lease of a small space in the T. D. & L. theatre building. One of Fletcher's root beer stands, several of which are already operating in Los Angeles, will occupy the space, which will be devoted entirely to the sale of root beer. The room is about fifteen feet square, and is reported to have been leased for three years at a rental of $200 per month the first year and $250 per month thereafter. This figures at more than $1 per square foot per month—and it all has to be made out of the sale of root beer!

Students Are Ushers at Sousa's Concert

Sousa's famous band was aided by some of the members of the Glendale Union High school band when three of the local tooters went down to the Philharmonic Tuesday night and assisted in ushering the audience to their seats. Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, head of the music department at G. U. H. S., secured the positions for them through Mr. Anderson, head usher at the auditorium. Several more local boys are to have a similar treat.

The check we gave you is still good for one dollar

SOME of our friends have asked us if the dollar checks which we lately distributed in Glendale are good after January tenth. Somehow the misinformation got about that our offer was concluded on that date. We have told them, as we wish to tell all the people of Glendale through this advertisement, that these checks are good until used and may be presented at any time.

Whenever you come to open your Savings Account in either of our Glendale Branches, bring the check and we will credit the amount of it, ONE DOLLAR, conditionally in your new Beneficial Term Savings pass book.

If you already have a Savings Account here, or for other reasons do not wish to avail yourself of this extra dollar which we are giving new customers, perhaps some member of your family, some friend we overlooked, or a kiddie whom you wish to encourage to save, would appreciate it.

Bring the check in at your first convenience.

WE tried not to miss anyone who would want one of these checks, but with a limited distribution it has not been possible to reach everybody. If we missed you, drop in at either of our Branches and we will gladly see that you receive one.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

MECHANICAL EXERCIES

The importance of exercise—exercise accelerates circulation; activates the ductless glands; tones and strengthens the flabby muscles, both voluntary and involuntary; invigorates the nervous system; prevents fat forming. Enough said!

If you are very fat, your heart will not take kindly to active exercise, and you will be wiser to reduce a bit before undertaking it. If in doubt, consult a heart specialist. For those who are so afflicted, some of the mechanical devices to give exercise are often recommended by the medical profession.

After I was released from duty with the American Red Cross in the Balkans, I visited several of the capitals of Europe to see what they were doing in the child welfare line. Naturally, I wanted to sample the characteristic dishes of the different nations I visited, and I did. Also naturally, I did not count my calories—thinking, like a small boy I'm fond of, Gosh G, what's the use? I can always count calories and I cannot always consort with foreign dishes on their native heaths.

The result was, of course, that I converted considerable of those delicious delectable viands into my own particular undelicious, undelectable brand of anatomical upholstering. Oft and frequently I had to protest that while there was a food shortage in Europe, it really wasn't because I was there. However, I dislike myself when I am overweight. I dislike myself intensely when I am overweight! And I do like to be consistent, so it behooved me speedily and promptly to get ride of my importation.

Along with my home exercising and dieting, I took a course of electric vibratory chair treatments—those where they put mountains of sand bags on you and, connected with the electric vibration, your muscles automatically work to beat the orchestra. Between us, we took off the 15 pounds of foreign hatefulness, and I was my usual 100 per cent American.

There is also a rolling machine which I patronized once and had a couple of inches mowed off my hips. It was much more fun than floor rolling for that purpose.

I believe these mechanical devices fill a very great need for those who are unable to exercise, and also for those who are too indolent to exert themselves (sometimes the effect of fat is to make one get that way) and I know of excellent results from them. But as in active forms of exercise, it is very wise to begin lightly and to heed the attendant's warning when you, in your zeal, want things speeded up.

I must not forget to speak of good deep massage in the hands of a good masseuse. This also is excellent.

None of those things can take the place of active exercise, however, when you are able to take it. Nor will they take the place of dieting, for you can go right out after a treatment and eat on more than they have taken off. You must diet, with any exercise, if you want to reduce. Of course, if you do get a lot of vigorous exercise, you can eat a lot more than you could otherwise; but you probably will not keep up the exercise to that extent, and so you must know something of dietetics.

Don't follow the advice that tells you to cut out all starches, all sugars, all fats—in fact, all the things you like to eat. If you do, you will bring on acidosis and your condition will be worse than it was before. You must know food values (calories) and limit yourself to a number that will reduce you one or two pounds a week. And you must choose your foods so that you will get the necessary amount of vitamins, mineral elements and protein in that number of calories to which you have limited yourself.

After you have supplied these needs, if you have any calories left, you can have a piece of candy or a small sweet dessert. However, the less you indulge in candy and dessert, the sooner you will get over that abnormal craving for them.

Tomorrow:—Active Exercise

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Daily Fashion Hint

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

AN EXQUISITE COAT-DRESS

The long-sleeved side-closing coat-dress is typically Parisian, and here is an exquisite model in brown costume broadcloth, trimmed with biege caracul collar and cuffs. The silhouette is tubular, since the dress expresses the last word in style, and the string belt fastens at one side. If preferred, one of the fur cloths may be used for the trimming instead of genuine peltry. Medium size requires 3⅝ yards 54-inch material, and ¾ yard fur cloth.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1799. Sizes, 34 to 50 inches bust. Price, 45 cents.

FROCK OF SMART STYLE

For practical as well as fashionable wear, one could not do better than select this dress of dark blue rep, which seems to be even more favored than the twillcords. Finishing the V-shaped neck is a collar of self-material stitched with silver and turquois blue embroidery. The pockets and sleeves are decorated to correspond with the collar. If desired, circular panels may be added to the sides of the skirt. As pictured the dress requires 2¾ yards 54-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1566. Sizes 34 to 48 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

ANTIPATHY

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have just become engaged to a young man whom I love with all my heart and we are very happy together. There is only one thing that troubles me and that is the fact that he does not like my best girl friend and she does not like him. She and my friend simply can't get along together. They say such sarcastic things to each other that I am uncomfortable all the time.

The worst of it is that I have felt a change in my girl friend and she no longer seems to care so much for me. Of course I cannot give up the man I love more than any one else in the world simply because she does not like him. But I do not want to lose her friendship.

What can I do to make the two of them better friends?

MARION W.

I presume your fiance and your girl friend are merely jealous of each other. Your fiance wants you all to himself and even resents your devotion to a girl you have known for a long time. Your girl friend feels that your interests are divided now and she no longer fills the place in your heart she frequently did.

Interference on your part will do little to bring the two closer together. Simply be loyal to both of them and let time settle their difficulties. Try not to take their antipathy for each other so much to heart.

A MOTHER'S INTEREST

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am troubled about my 18 year old son. Lately he has shown great interest in a certain girl whom I do not like in the least. She has bobbed hair and I am reasonably sure that she paints, although my son declares she does not. The only time I ever saw her was at a moving picture show and that time she certainly looked as if she had made use of powder and rouge.

My son has always been a good boy and has helped his father and me in every way he could. He has always been handy and earned quite a little money helping in a grocery store. Before this he was perfectly willing to give us all he made, but now he keeps out money for shows and a box of candy for his girl on Sunday night.

I really wouldn't care if he had chosen a nice, modest girl of the right kind. But it breaks my heart to see him fall in love with some one who is not his equal. Please advise me what to do to make him see she is not the right sort of girl for him to go with. MRS. McM.

At the age of eighteen I doubt if your son is seriously in love. Almost all mothers have to go through the experience which is troubling you now. Probably if you say little and do not oppose your son, he will get over his infatuation after a time. To be critical of his taste in regard to a girl is a dangerous matter, because in his resentment he might turn against you and cease to give you his confidence. Always try to be sympathetic with your son and get his point of view.

Every year, after the Christmas ason, I like to go among my iends and see the fancywork fts they received. I have just mpleted my annual survey and rewith report upon The Best ristmas Gift I Saw:

To judge from my own locality, e dainty hand-made silk vest s the most popular Christmas esent in 1923. I saw them erywhere. And as I examined em, lying in their pretty holly xes, I said to myself: "Why dn't I think of making them to ve to my friends? They are th dainty and inexpensive—ose two chief requisites for an eal gift."

But, although Christmas is over, believe that my Reader Friends ill nevertheless like to have me escribe these differently trimmed sts. For they would be equally appropriate to use as birthday or engagement gifts.

My first statement, in describing them, is that they can be made for $2 apiece. Of course I cannot give actual figures concerning the trimming, but I can give a fairly accurate estimate of the cost of the fibre silk from which they are made. After seeing the gift-vests at my friends' homes, I went to a city department store and inquired the price of the sort of fibre silk from which they are made (it is silk in the shape of a tube, so that the garment may be seamless; lying flat, double thickness, it measures 18 inches across). The silk which I saw cost $1.45 a yard. The saleswoman told me that only three-quarters of a yard was commonly used to make one shirt—which brought the cost down to $1.09. Different stores may have another price for this silk tubing, of course, but I am merely stating the price I was quoted.

After buying your three-quarters of a yard of the fibre silk tubing, all that you will need to complete the little vest will be a spool of sewing silk to match the material, enough ribbon or insertion to go around the top of the shirt, with baby ribbon to run through it. If you wish a very elaborate vest, you may also use a few small silk flowers at the front—but these will bring the price over $2 for the entire gift. I shall describe the trimming on the gift-vests I saw, so that you may try to duplicate it in the stores if you wish:

Lavender Silk Vest: Val. lace and insertion at top, lavender inch-wide satin shoulder straps, a lavender silk flower to decorate.

Beauty Chats

by Edna Kent Forbes

ON BEING EXERCISED

Some people are too lazy to take exercises by themselves, and some are too ill or weak to give themselves the exercise they need. Some people have localized troubles which prevent certain forms of exercise that other parts of the body require, and some are so excessively fat that the strain of doing exercises with muscles far from normal would bring on all sorts of latent troubles. For all of these there are various ways of being exercised.

There is an electric machine, for instance, which exercises the muscles automatically. It is a chair with a broad back and seat, with wide arms and a sloping rest for the legs and feet. It is rather a formidable looking chair for it is covered almost entirely with metal plates and carries at the side a set of curved plates to strap over the abdomen and chest. All these are connected with an electric switchboard.

The patient lies full length in the chair. When the current is turned on he feels a vibration and a tingling sensation in all the muscles of his body. Should another person put his finger on any muscle he could feel it working. The machine is so adjusted that any plate not needed can be disconnected, and a stronger massage given to any part specially needing it. This system, by the way, is much used for reduction, but like any other system of reduction its effect is temporary and no use if the patient goes on over eating.

There is also electric massage by means of rollers; then there is massage by hand and osteopathy, all of which exercise the muscles of those who cannot, or will not, exercise for themselves. It is certainly cheaper to take enough exercise while you can to prevent such an expensive condition arising.

Inez K.: Any pressure over the bust, such as a tight bandeaux, would cause the muscles to become flabby, or might even bruise. A large bust is not so noticeable if the corset is cut with a low bust and laced so that it is rather loose for an inch or more both above and below the actual waist line. In the corset departments of the large stores you may have this done for you if you do not know how to proceed yourself.

Min.: Using salt water on your complexion several times a week would be enough during the cold months; the skin is not so active then as in summer, when you find a daily salt bath so helpful in keeping the skin firm. At 23 years of age with a height of five feet seven inches, you should weigh about 130 pounds.

Business Girl: It would not pay you to make a depilatory at home. The ingredients bought separately from a druggist would cost as much as the trade preparations.

Tomorrow—The Home Manicure.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

ENJOYED A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP

"I wish to say that FOLEY'S PILLS worked O. K. on me in a couple of hours and the pains left me at once. I took a couple of them in the afternoon, went to bed and had a good night's sleep and have slept good ever since," writes Con Thiel, 118 E. Columbia St., Fort Wayne, Indiana. E. B. Lossnitzer of Tujunga has been nursing a set of badly swollen knuckles that forced him to do his work with one hand. Somewhere not a thousand miles from there is a young man nursing a bruised face and denying himself to all callers until the knuckle marks disappear. He may be improving the time by considering the advisability of following some profession in which he will receive more cordial but less vigorous greetings than those he got when he called on Lossnitzer in a professional way. Lossnitzer's pet aversion is burglars.

No one would say that Mr. Lossnitzer is tough, but there is a rumor going the rounds that he has often mistaken porcupines for lollypops in his younger days. Now that the days of youth are left behind he has settled in Tujunga and operates a little grocery store in a quiet neighborhood on East Michigan avenue. One of that kind with a little bell attached to the front door to announce the entry of a customer and rouse the proprietor. When the bell tinkles he comes shuffling out from the rear room, where he has his parlor, bedroom and bath.

Faces Sixshooter

Saturday night the bell tinkled. It was near closing time and the genial grocer sat enjoying the quiet of his living room. With visions of making one more sale before closing the shop, Mr. Lossnitzer went to the front to wait on his late buyer. As he entered the storeroom proper he was confronted by a masked man with a gun and the command to throw up his hands.

This was not at all what the grocer expected. He wanted to take in money, not give it out. In other words, if he had chosen baseball for a career he would undoubtedly have been a catcher and not a pitcher. Besides which, he hates burglars. He couldn't see any part of his caller's face except the ears, and they appeared somewhat nervous, so the grocer reached back to the southern horizon and swung from there. He landed on the would-be holdup like the Pilgrims landed on the rock.

The burglar suddenly remembered a previous engagement and decided to devote his entire attention to the nearest exit. He gained the roadway with Lossnitzer pressing him hard. The burglar headed west on Michigan avenue, and Lossnitzer swears his ankles were smoking. A short distance from the store the grocer fell in a ditch and his caller escaped.

Customers at the little grocery haven't been getting very swift service, due to the proprietor's handicap of one hand, but they are entertained during the delay with the story of the routed burglar.

Acacia Avenue P.-T. A. Will Sponsor Play

"The Green Stocking," a three-act play by A. E. M. Mason, is to be presented Friday night in the auditorium of the new high school by the Polytechnic Players, directed by Frances Wallace and George M. Glasgow, under the auspices of the Acacia Avenue Parent-Teachers' Association.

Added attractions will be selections by the Community Service band and vocal numbers before the play and between acts by Mrs. Jack Collins, soprano; Geraldine Keleher and Helen Healey.

The cast includes Idell McClure, Miss Goodspeed, Emma Brown, Ralph Holly, Ruth Haldin, Charles Thomas, Bert Eaton, H. Price, Robert Rose, Harold Hynes, Gladys Kidd and George M. Glasgow.

IF BACK HURTS FLUSH KIDNEYS

Drink Plenty Water and Take Glass of Salts Before Breakfast Occasionally

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which helps to remove the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity.

The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of good water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they are no longer a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this; also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Advertisement.

DEMAND GREATER FACTORY SPACE

Kaighin Candy Business Has Outgrown Its Present Accommodations

The business of Clarence Kaighin's candy factory, 123-125 South Maryland avenue, is growing so rapidly that Mr. Kaighin is planning to secure additional floor space to double his capacity. During 1923, he said, the factory produced twice as much candy as during 1922, and prospects are good for a similar increase during 1924.

The factory is now employing fourteen people. It specializes in the manufacture of fine chocolates, which are sold to the trade either in bulk or put up in fancy boxes. To realize how wide a scope the imagination of a candy box manufacturer has to cover, and how many varieties of container must be used in preparing sweetmeats for sale, you have to visit a modern candy factory. A large part of Mr. Kaighin's floor space is filled to the ceiling with boxes, empty or full. And practically all of them are advertisements of Glendale, carrying the name of this place in ornamental design in connection with the trade name, "Kaighin's."

Mr. Kaighin has spent a quarter of a century in the candy-making business. He learned the trade in New York city, and later operated a small candy business in Pasadena for several years. He said that quite a large number of Pasadena residents who are more or less globe trotters at this time buy their candy from him, and that he is continually shipping boxes of his product to addresses in far corners of the world.

Heavy Purchases

The factory buys sugar and chocolate by the ton. It has the most up-to-date machinery, the mixing being done by power-driven equipment. Mr. Kaighin has not installed mechanical dipping processes, however, as some of the larger factories have, because he looks upon dipping as an art that can only be properly practiced by hand. He has four expert dippers, young ladies who have grown so proficient that each can put chocolate coating on more than 3,000 pieces of candy in a day. The factory produced almost 5,000,000 chocolates during 1923.

Mr. Kaighin has his home here also, living with his wife and children at 420 Myrtle street.

Dynamos Class Will Hold Skating Party

Roll along, roll along!

That's what the members of the Dynamos class of the Glendale Presbyterian church are aiming to do tonight, when they hold their skate at Alhambra. About twenty-five couples are expected to be there, and a snappy evening has been mapped out by Harold Jones, who has charge.

Just how many spills will be taken cannot be foretold, but it is known that several will try to maintain equilibrium on roller skates for the first time. However, plenty of good refreshments are going to be on hand, and those who are so unfortunate as to sit down unexpectedly can seek them for solace. It is very probable, nevertheless, that the ones who partake of the nourishment will not be just those who fall down.

Seek to Enroll New Girl Scout Members

Glendale girls who wish to enroll as prospective Scouts are invited to attend meetings that are to be held for that purpose this week. Girls of 10, 11 and 12 years of age are asked to meet with Mrs. Buoi, Saturday afternoon at 2:30, at Colorado street school.

Those who are 13 or 14 years of age are invited to meet with Mrs. Endsley, Friday at 3:30, at Wilson avenue intermediate school.

A cordial invitation is extended to all girls who are interested in Scout work and would like to enroll as members of the new troops now in process of formation.

Carrier Boys Guests At Dinner, Theatre

O. K. Williams, circulation manager of The Glendale Evening News, and forty of his carrier boys that bring Glendalians their papers each afternoon, were guests last night of A. T. Cowan, owner and proprietor of the News, at a dinner at the Harriett Mae Tea room, corner of Maryland avenue and East Harvard street.

After the dinner the boys were guests of Manager William A. Howe at his Glendale Theatre, where they saw Snub Pollard in his latest two-part Hal Roach comedy, "Before the Public," and in addition, the current feature and news reel.

Invitations Out For Seelig Housewarming

A neatly arranged card with a busy-looking little man standing on a soap box nailing up a big sign "welcome" has arrived at The Glendale Evening News office inviting all to attend the housewarming Wednesday night, January 30, in the Sam Seelig warehouse at Vernon avenue and Alameda street.

The card states, "Our friends and your friends will be there. We invite you and your friends (ladies included, of course) to come and participate in the festivities. Eight o'clock, informal."

BANK INCREASES CAPITALIZATION

Two More Directors Elected As Board Members at Annual Meeting

An increase in the capital stock, increase in the number of directors from seven to nine, and the election of a new cashier marked the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Tujunga Valley bank.

The authorized increase in stock is from $25,000 to $100,000. It is understood that the directors will issue about $25,000 at the present.

In addition to the re-election of the incumbent board of directors the two new members elected are A. Adams and R. D. Walker. Members re-elected are: Emil Kirchner, president; A. F. Wells, F. C. Scoville and E. L. Sweet, vice-presidents; A. Adams, treasurer and cashier, and R. D. Walker, assistant cashier. Addison E. Wells, G. J. Fischer and George C. Buck complete the directorate.

In future Mr. Scoville, who has been cashier, will take up some line of business less confining. He intends to remain in close touch with the affairs of the bank and to assist its growth and prosperity in every way possible. A committee consisting of Addison E. Wells, J. T. Fitzgerald and George C. Buck was appointed to draft resolutions of regret over the severance of the connection.

Mr. Adams, elected cashier to succeed Mr. Scoville, has been a resident of Tujunga for some time and has been connected with banking institutions in various vicinities, having been with the National Bank of Monrovia, the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings at Huntington Park, and for the last year has been manager of the branch at Western and Beverly in Los Angeles.

The Tujunga Valley bank has been in operation for three years and great satisfaction was expressed at the stockholders' meeting with the progress made in that time.

Aid German Children

In response to an appeal from Boyle Workman of the Los Angeles City Council, who is chairman of a committee to raise funds for German children reported as starving, the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce has voted to give an entertainment for the purpose of assisting in the move. L. H. Fisher, president of the chamber, appointed the board of directors a committee to arrange the entertainment. Churches and other organizations will be asked to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce. As soon as the details of the program have been arranged the date of presentation will be announced.

Dr. Virginia T. Smith, who has been under the care of specialists for several weeks at the Tujunga Sanitarium following a cerebral hemorrhage, is able to be out again and has been taken for short trips about the valley. She is able to spend part of the time in the garden, but is still weak. Her strength is gradually returning, according to the report, and she is expected soon to be fully recovered from the experience.

A theatre party was recently given the retiring officers of the American Legion Auxiliary to Post 250, at the Tujunga Valley theatre. The guests were Mrs. E. J. Nelson, Mrs. C. Hamilton and Mrs. C. H. Kellar.

George Garman of Tujunga and Miss Amelia Sharpe of Eagle Rock were married at the home of the bride December 30, 1923. Mr. Garman was for some time associated with his father in the grocery business in Tujunga. The couple will make their home for the present with the bridegroom's father on Stevens Way.

Club Celebrates

Members of the Acacia Club and their friends met recently at the new club rooms in the Breidt building on Sunset boulevard to initiate the new quarters. The rooms have been leased for five years. Furnishings have been installed from the well-appointed kitchen to the lodge room.

There were forty members and friends present to enjoy the banquet that had been prepared. Bruce Anawalt, president of the club, introduced Fred M. Ashby as toastmaster. Short talks were given by several of the members, including Judge H. H. Breidt, Major P. J. Blake, Bruce Anawalt, Charles Bloore, O. W. Segner, James K. Banks, E. L. Stewart, C. P. LeBrun, D. T. Murtie, R. E. Horne, H. H. Frazier, B. F. Mears, C. C. Campbell, Nelson E. Jones and George C. Matteson.

A meeting of the Western Empire Suburban Farms Association was recently held in Los Angeles with M. V. Hartranft, president, presiding. A report was made by a special committee composed of E. W. Pasko, C. C. Buck, A. E. Wells and Mr. Fossell. The report stated that the committee had investigated the condition of the association and found that the affairs had been efficiently, successfully and honestly administered. Another meeting will be held in the near future, it is expected. This association was the pioneer subdividing agency in the Tujunga territory, forming the colony in 1913. Many of the original colonists are still living in Tujunga.

Mrs. Andrew Peterson recently entertained several members of the first colonists at dinner. Among those present were Miss Zoe Gilbert, Miss Hannah McKee, Mrs. Dean and Miss Mary Lewis.

Miss Zoe Gilbert has sold her gift shop on Sunset boulevard to Mrs. Jessie College. The property was one of the first lots sold when the townsite was subdivided eleven years ago.

Oxy Professor Tells of Mexico Conditions

The Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce held a banquet at the Occidental College Commons Tuesday night. Dr. Robert Clelland, head of the history department at the institution and who is taking a year's leave of absence studying conditions in Mexico and doing research work in Washington, D. C., and who is spending a few days at his home on his way from Mexico to the capital, was the speaker of the occasion.

He addressed the large gathering on "Mexico," telling many interesting features in connection with the history of that country, and telling of the revolutions and battles which have taken place in that country.

About six months ago a new Hispano-American chair of $100,000 was established at Occidental and Dr. Clelland, as head of that department, was granted a year's leave of absence to make a complete study of the Latin-American countries, past and present.

High School Scribes Meet at University

Aspiring high school journalists from all over Southern California flocked to the University of Southern California today to celebrate the Annual Newspaper Day, held every year at the Trojan institution. Schools as far north as Santa Barbara will be represented, while the southern limit is the border.

Several prominent newspaper men will speak. Among these are Clarke Waite of the San Pedro Pilot; H. G. Palmer, Hollywood Citizen; J. P. Baumgartner, Santa Ana Register; Crombie Allen, Ontario Report; S. S. Conklin, Long Beach Telegram; J. S. Gabbert, Riverside Enterprise; J. S. Cramer, Orange News, and Roy Drisco, Pomona Bulletin.

The program is in charge of Marc Goodnow, head of the journalism department at U. S. C., and a full day is planned, starting at 8:30 a. m. A free lunch will be served to the delegates, of whom about 100 are expected.

Those going from Glendale are: Loren Scoville, editor of the "Explosion;" Reynolds Packard, and Neale Sooy.

Another strange thing is why, if so many of these shooters are crazy, they don't shoot themselves.—Nashville Banner.

DENVER, Jan. 17.— Breeders and feeders of live stock from all sections of the corn belt and the western range states are grooming up their best individuals and herds for the Eighteenth Annual National Western Stock Show scheduled for Denver the week of January 19 to 26, 1924. Interest in the great western exposition, judging from entries and inquiries received by Harry L. Youngerman general manager of the show, is high, and indications are that the largest crowds in history will gather to pass judgment on the aristocrats of the domestic animal kingdom assembled in the competition.

That the coming National Western show will be larger and better in almost every department is indicated by a survey of the entry list. Entries of breeding cattle in the single classes are larger than those of a year ago by more than 50 head, totaling approximately 650 individuals. In the dairy classes 200 individuals have been entered. In the breeding swine classes nearly 600 head have been listed, and the sheep and horse departments will show a larger number of entries.

It is in the carlot division that the National Western Stock Show excels all other live stock expositions of the country. More than 35 carloads of breeding bulls—sturdy Herefords, Shorthorns and Aberdeen-Angus—will appear in the show ring and later in the sale ring at the coming show. But 28 carloads were entered last year. Fifteen carloads of breeding heifers, compared with 7 carloads in 1923, are listed for the eighteenth annual event. Sixteen carloads of fat cattle and 65 carloads of hogs are entered in the carlot classes. In the carlot feeder cattle classes entries to date total 102 carloads, but enough stragglers are in sight to bring this total up to 125 cars. More than 300 carloads of pure bred feeder cattle will be sold at auction during stock show week.

Breeders of pure bred live stock from 22 states will be represented in the competition. Dairy cattle from Wisconsin, leading milk-producing state of the union, have been entered. H. O. Harrison, of California, who purchased the C. C. Anderson & Son herd of Aberdeen-Angus, winners at the 1923 International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago, will be here with his entire show string. This string includes the $15,000 grand champion Angus bull of the recent International Exposition. Angus breeders from Colorado—the Lucores and Deitz, of Arriba, and Walter Campbell, of La Veta—and from neighboring states will show more than 150 head in the breeding classes. The coming show promises to be the biggest August event ever held west of the Mississippi.

The National Western Horse Show, held in connection with the Stock Show, will be the most brilliant equine event ever staged in the West. Announcement is made that Loula Long Combs, of Kansas City, will be here with a carload of harness horses and a carload for the saddle classes. Waite Phillips, of Highland Ranch, Littleton, Colorado, has entered nine head of hunters, jumpers, saddle and harness horses. Mrs. Edna Cudahy Brown, of California, will be here with hunters. The Hyle ponies will be here, as will ponies from other famous stables. There will be six night Horse Shows, starting with Monday night, January 21, and three matinees—Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Railroads entering Denver have announced a special rate of fare and one-third for the round trip to Denver during Stock Show week. Railroad tickets at these rates are on sale from January 17 to 21, inclusive, and on January 23, with a final return limit of January 29. Rates will be granted from all points in Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, Montana, New Mexico, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, South Dakota, Oklahoma, Texas and all Missouri river points between Kansas City, Mo., and Sioux City, Iowa.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND JACKIE'S ROPE

Once upon a time Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy, was bad. As Jackie asked me kindly not to tell what it was that he did which he ought not to have done, I will keep silent. But I will tell you this much: He was bad and his mother said:

"Jackie, I must punish you!"

"What are you going to do to me, mother?" whined Jackie, hanging his tail between his legs, which a dog always does when he has been bad.

"I am going to tie you up with a rope and make you stay in the kennel," answered Mrs. Bow Wow. "You will have to stay tied up by your rope until 4 o'clock this afternoon. By that time Peetie and I shall have returned from the moving pictures and I will let you loose."

"Oh, mother, couldn't I go to the movies with you and Peetie?" begged Jackie.

"No, you have been bad and you must be punished, so I shall tie you up with a rope," barked Mrs. Bow Wow. "I am sorry, and I would much rather not have to do it. But you must be taught a lesson, Jackie, hard as it is."

The puppy dog boy cried a little and then he grew brave, wiped away his tears and said:

All right, mother, tie me up! But I hope 4 o'clock will come very soon."

Mrs. Bow had a tear in each of her own eyes as she tied Jackie by a rope to the clothes post in the back yard of the kennel house. For Mrs. Bow Wow felt sorry for Jackie, though she knew it was best to punish him a little.

"I am trusting you, Jackie," she said, as she went on to the movies with Peetie. "You must not loosen the rope and run away until 4 o'clock. If I am not back by that time, though I expect to be, you may untie the knot and run around."

"All right, mother," whined Jackie, softly. "I'll stay tied up."

And he did, nearly all that afternoon. The rope was long enough so he could walk around the post. At first it was not so bad, but the worst thing that can happen a dog is to be tied up. For dogs love to roam about, sniffing, smelling and barking. And soon Jackie felt so sorry for himself that he raised his nose high in the air and howled.

"Wow-uff! Wow-uff! Wow-uff!" howled the roped-up doggie boy. "Oh, dear, how sad it is to be tied fast when I want to run around and have fun! I'm never going to be bad any more! Wow-uff! Wow-uff! Wow-uff!"

Now, as it happened, Uncle Wiggily was hopping along just then and he heard Jackie's howls. Up to the kennel house hopped the rabbit gentleman, and when he saw Jackie tied to the clothes post Mr. Longears cried:

"Did the Woozie Wolf or the bad Bob Cat tie you up, Jackie?"

"No, Uncle Wiggily, my mother did it!"

"Your mother did it?"

"Yes; 'cause I was bad. I have to stay tied up until 4 o'clock."

Uncle Wiggily looked at his wrist watch. It was then 3 o'clock.

"You have an hour yet, Jackie,' said the bunny, sadly.

"That's a long while," howled Jackie. "Maybe, Uncle Wiggily, while I have to stay here tied up you would tell me a story."

"Of course I'll do that," offered the bunny gentleman, and he told Jackie a funny story about a little goldfish, who hadn't any tail, and every time he swam he flopped right out the pail.

"Ha, ha! That was a funny story!" laughed Jackie, shaking the rope by which he was tied. "It was such a funny—— Oh, look, Uncle Wiggily! Look!" suddenly howled the doggie boy. "There's the Bob Cat coming over the hill!" And, surely enough, up rushed the bad Bob Cat.

"Ha, ha!" snarled the Bob Cat, standing near the clothes post, as he looked at Uncle Wiggily's ears. "I shall not be hungry any more. Oh, such fine nibbles as I am going to have!"

"What are you going to nibble?" asked the bunny, sadly.

"Your ears!" howled the Bob Cat.

"No, you aren't!" barked Jackie. Then the doggie boy, on the end of his rope, began to run around the Bob Cat and the clothes post. And before the Bob Cat knew it that doggie boy had bound him last to the post by winding the rope around him. Right fast to the clothes post the Bob Cat was bound.

"Ha, ha! Now let's see you nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears!" laughed Jackie.

"He can't nibble me!" said the bunny. "And, Jackie, it is now 4 o'clock, so I will loosen you from the rope. But we'll leave the Bob Cat tied here and send the Police Dog after him."

So Jackie was loosed when his mother said he might be, and the Bob Cat was tied up by the same rope, and the Police Dog, a little later, took the bad chap to jail.

'Ha! Ha!' laughed Jackie.

"After all, Jackie," said Uncle Wiggily, as he bought the doggie boy a cinnamon lollypop, "it's a good thing your mother tied you up."

"I guess it was," laughed Jackie.

And if the knife doesn't hide the fork down in the salt cellar, where it can't tickle the breakfast orange, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Lady Bug.

10 Years Ago Today

From Evening News Files

Members of the Elks marching club presented a fine appearance last evening when they were doing drill work on Broadway between Brand boulevard and Orange street.

The rain Saturday night washed mud and sand onto the sidewalk in front of the Pacific Electric station. At 1 o'clock today there was a bank of mud extending almost across the walk.

Burbank and vicinity are dead set "agin" annexation and all outside territory known as the Burbank district wants to annex to Burbank city.

Dinner Stories

In the days when "Spare the rod and spoil the child" was still a deeply felt axiom, a teacher complained to the principal that she had spanked one boy, Henry, until she could spank him no more for physical fatigue. Henry it appeared, was just simply mean.

"When you want him spanked again," the principal said, "just send him to me."

When Henry happened to come into the office of the principal the next morning, that worthy regarded him with suspicion.

"Did you come from Miss Bings?" he asked.

"Yes, sir," the boy replied.

"I thought so!" On the instance, he skillfully inverted Henry over his lap and administered his hand rapidly in no soothing manner. This duty done, as the boy's wails died away, he demanded:

"Now what have you to say?"

"Please, sir," answered Henry, brokenly, "Miss Bings wants a pair of scissors."

He had just arrived at one of those resorts where boiled men go to be boiled out and renovated generally. Presuming his neighbor on the sanitarium veranda to be a fellow patient, he opened a conversation.

"And is the air here," he began, "as good for the health as they say?"

"Is it!" exclaimed the other. "Well, now, when I came here I had no strength at all. I couldn't possibly have walked across this porch. I had hardly a hair on my head, and as for weight, you could have weighed me on the letter scales in the office!"

"Gee! Have you been here long?"

"Some time. You see, I'm the proprietor's son, and I was born here."

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

THE STENOGS' UNION

Prithee, pretty maiden,
Join no union or the like,
For this would be a vacant world
If you should go on strike.

You're in my outer office,
And I like to know you're there
When dreaded bores call on me
To beard he in my lair.

I like to hear you answer
The office telephone.
No one can fib like you can,
My dear, you stand alone.

I like to hear you answer
The favor-seeking bunch,
Informing them, adroitly,
"He's out. He's out to lunch."

How often have I wondered,
Sweet maid, if you're possessed
Of an India rubber conscience,
And is your soul at rest?

Oh, smiling young Sapphira,
You pull that stunt all day.
When you meet old St. Peter,
What are you going to say?

Oh, prithee, pretty damsel,
Seek not the sordid pelf.
Strike not, or I will have to do
My lying for myself.

Now that we have had a tie week, an underwear week and a whatnot week, we would like to advocate a soft collar week. A lot of those dress reformers would have us comfort around the necks-ers believe that soft collars are decidedly bad taste, especially so after the summer is over. Now in our dress, politics and so forth we are conservative, but when it comes to the question of collars, we are radical. Down with the starched collars! Allez up with the soft! We first became acquainted with the latter when we had a carbuncle on the neck and we've been wearing them ever since. Soft collars, not carbuncles. They'll have to pass a law compelling us to do so before we wear a starched collar again. Then we'll evade it by acquiring another carbuncle. There's entirely too much prejudice against the soft collar. Why, some ladies will not go out with a man that wears the soft ones. If a girl has her choice of two men and accepts the one with the rough edges, well, it serves her right. By the way, the king of Spain wears soft collars, and they do say as how that Al is quite a swell. And soft collars won the war, too. What an army it would have been if the boys had to wear starched collars. They would have been so busy wrigglin' their necks they would have not had time to fight.

LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE

I went to five haberdasheries
Along the main street of this town
Looking for a No. 17 shirt.
All five turned me down, flat.
They didn't care for my custom
Unless I had a No. 15 neck.
This was a surprise to me,
Because I have worn No. 17 shirts
For the past twenty years.
But it seems now as though
A man who wears more than a No. 15
Is not entitled to shirts, at all.
The willowy boys have the call.
I went to see the sixth dealer.
He seemed disposed to talk to me,
But he had no shirts of the No. 17.
I asked him why he didn't keep them
And what a man was to do who had
Better than a pipestem for a neck,
And he said frankly he didn't know.
"But," he continued, "I think
That perhaps I can help you
In the solution of your difficulty.
I will send for some literature
On the subject and will mail it
To your address in a day or two.
It will solve the shirt trouble."
Well, this morning it came.
It was in the shape of a pamphlet,
And the title of it was:
"Why Be Fat? We Can Reduce You
One Pound a Day Without Fail."
And that is the only way anybody
Has ever tried to solve
The shirt problem for me.

But, though they love us dearly while we're living,
They love us a whole lot better when we're dead.

Who's Who in the Day's News

REP. FINIS GARRETT

As a result of the happenings of the early sessions of Congress Rep. Finis Garrett, Democrat from Tennessee, looms up as one of the leading figures in the present session.

FINIS GARRETT

Garrett, as Democratic floor leader, will take a leading part in the fight for revisions of rules, demanded by the progressives. The two-day deadlock in the house over the selection of a speaker resulted in a partial victory for the Republican progressives, who finally permitted the election of Rep. Gillett on the promise of several concessions, including the opportunity to alter the rules of procedure "radically." Then Garrett announced that the Democrats would join with the "radicals" in seeking changes.

Garrett is starting his tenth session in the house. He was born in 1875 near Ore Springs, Tenn. He was educated at the common schools and at Bethel College, receiving his degree in 1897.

For a brief period after his graduation he taught school in Milan, Tenn. Later he studied law in the offices of Charles M. Ewing of Dresden under the personal instruction of Ewing himself. In 1889 he was admitted to the bar. He was appointed in chancery in 1900 and served until 1905.

Then he started on his political career and was elected to the fifty-ninth Congress and has been re-elected to every Congress since.

Garrett was married in 1901 to Elizabeth Burns of McKenzie, Tenn. The family home is in Dresden, Tenn.

REPRESENTATIVE LEONIDAS CARSTARPHEN DYER

A unique plan for obtaining funds for the enforcement of prohibition has been suggested to Congress by Representative Leonidas C. Dyer of Missouri. He advocates the sale of near-real beer of 2.75 per cent and the collection of a tax on the sale of said beer, the receipts to be used to help defray the expenses of dry enforcement. He believes that proper licensing and taxing of the beer sellers would eliminate old-time evils and that three-fourths of the persons would then support the present dry laws.

REP. DYER

Dyer is a native of Missouri. His parents journeyed to that state from Virginian and Kentucky with their parents. Dyer was born on a farm in Warren county. He was educated in the public schools, Central Wesleyan college of Warrenton, Mo., and Washington university at St. Louis.

His first important political office was that of assistant circuit attorney of St. Louis. He first entered Congress for the sixty-second session, but was unseated through contest instituted by the Democratic candidate. He was re-elected two years later and has served continuously since.

MANY SUBS IN CAGE BATTLE

Game With Burbank Ends in Victory for Glendale By 38-22 Score

Good guards carried the Glendale Union High school casaba midgets to victory over the Burbank Class B squad on their home floor. Although the final score was 38 to 22, had the game depended on the accurate shooting of the Red and Black forwards, it is very probable that the visitors would have carried off honors.

Coach Butterfield used plenty of subs, almost four teams being played in the game. The second team started the game and ended the first half, with the regulars going in at the third quarter, to be relieved by the third team in the last part of the game. C. Thompson starred for the subs with three baskets. Neel and Stearman tied with three goals apiece for the first team.

Ludlow, captain of the Burbank team, was the star of the entire game. Besides getting five difficult baskets, his speed and flashy playing marked him above the others. Bray, his running mate, shared honors with three baskets and two throws.

Need More Practice

From the showing made, the midgets will have to work mighty hard if they want to capture the Central League. The first game is with the Citrus 130s here this afternoon.

The line-up: Glendale—Harrison (4) and Farr (2), forwards; Beman (4), center; Heideman and C. Thompson (6), guards. Subs: Stearman (6), Neel (6), Lovell (4), Muff, McAllister, Sturgess (4), P. Thompson (2), Hatch, Townsend, Moulder, Alvord, Shepard. Burbank—Ludlow (10) and Bray (8), forwards; Jonnson, center; Bernette and Clair, guards. Subs: Blanchard (4), Mason.

Postmaster Jackson to Build New Home

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is at present studying plans with a view to building a new home on his property on Kenneth road. His present home at 1800 South Brand boulevard will, he believes, increase in value greatly, as a result of the developments that are taking here in the immediate future, and he expects that the time will come shortly when he will dispose of his present residence.

Preliminary Meet to Try Out Track Stars

The Oxy tracksters will make their debut next Friday afternoon, January 18, when Coach Pipal will stage the annual interclass novice track meet on Paterson Field. This meet will mainly include the frosh but any athlete who has not won a first or second place in the particular event which he enters, is considered a novice in that event. This is not the regular interclass meet, but a warming-up for the interclass which is scheduled for the following Friday.

Get Court Decision in Condemnation Suit

Final judgment in the condemnation suit instituted by the city for the opening of East Garfield street was handed down by Judge Valentine in the Superior court at Los Angeles Tuesday, and work may now be started on this long delayed improvement.

Residents of this section of the city have been in favor of this move for over two years, but the process of law in cases of this kind is necessarily a lengthy one, and they are gratified that the way is now clear for the opening of another street between Windsor road and Acacia street.

PASADENA TRIMS LEGION TOSSERS

League Stars Sweep Locals Off Their Feet by Fast Work on Floor

Playing the kind of ball that swept the locals off their feet, the Pasadena Legion team last night administered a defeat to the Glendale Legion quintet, by the score 44-17, at the Pasadena "Y" gym.

The Crown City casaba tossers played a whirlwind of a game, and Captain Wheelon of the losers says that he has no alibi to offer. The team work of Pasadena was the best seen in the American Legion league this winter, and it explains why they are topping the list in the standing. In addition to their passing, they were deadly in their basket shooting, especially McMillan, who hit the hoop time after time from all angles. Beach was high scorer for Glendale, with Brown a close second.

The showing made by Glendale in comparison with that of Pasadena was not brilliant, yet they played a good hard game and the contest was better than the score would indicate. They simply were not able to get their hands on the ball. All their baskets, seven in number, were made from long range shots in the middle of the floor. Glendale scored first, but Pasadena soon found their gait and from then on the result of the game was never in doubt. Santa Monica, last year's champs, will have to improve considerably if they expect to give the present league leaders any kind of a fight for this year's honors.

Arrangements are being made today for a game with Huntington Park and Glendale next Monday, although this is not definitely settled as yet. Prior to that game the locals intend to put in some hard work on passing.

Casaba Tossers Will Stage Double Header

Saturday evening in the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. gym the varsity and frosh basketball teams of Occidental college will meet the Calteck casaba tossers in the second round of the ten game conference schedule. The frosh preliminary game will begin at 7:00 p. m. with the main event starting at 8:00 p. m.

The Engineers' varsity is considered a dark horse and is the favorite in the coming contest. The Tiger varsity is still somewhat disorganized with Bennitts and Holiday still missing, and Ross Parks just getting over a period of illness. Coach Nichols will probably start the same five he sent against Whittier, namely Wagnor and Ebers, forwards; Forden at center; and Ridderhoff and Johnson at the guard positions.

Oxy's frosh five are not expecting trouble in disposing of the Calteck frosh. The Tiger yearlings are undoubtedly the smoothest working frosh team in the conference. Oat Smith, Oxy frosh basketball coach, will send Archer, Mishkin, Black, Godet, and Gregory in to start with.

START PLANS FOR CLASS C LEAGUE

Frank Kerwin Says Outlook Is Good; Coast Chiefs Back Movement

By AL DIX
Of The Evening News Staff.

Frank Kerwin, secretary of the southern California Baseball Managers' Association, who, with Grant Leischner, owns the Glendale ball club, returned from the Oakland meeting of the Pacific Coast league yesterday brimful of enthusiasm over the prospects of forming a new Class C league which will include Glendale in its roster.

"Everything is fine," he said yesterday afternoon. "The Coast league is behind us to a club. We are going to take steps immediately to get recognition from the national commission for a Class C organization, although the classification rests upon the recommendation of J. H. Farrell, secretary of the parent organization."

Meeting to Be Held

A meeting has been called for next Monday night at which all interested parties from towns desiring to have franchises in the new league have been asked to attend. It is certain that Glendale, Santa Ana, San Diego, and Long Beach will be there. Requests were received yesterday from San Bernardino and Catalina Island asking that they be given a chance to get in on the new circuit.

Owing to the late date of starting the movement, it may be impossible to get recognition this year. If this is the case, there will be a six or eight club independent circuit formed, which will take in the St. Louis colored Giants. If the league plays under organized rule, they cannot be included.

When the matter was presented to the Coast leage magnates by Frank Kerwin and Josh Clarke, of the Shell Oil club, who will have the Long Beach franchise in the new circuit, it is said, they immediately promised their co-operation. The league will be used as a farm for the AA organization, where they can send their recruits for more seasoning, and also keep an eye on all youngsters which are developed in the minor circuit. The Coast league has needed just such a league as this for some time, and they were all loud in their praise of the idea.

Glendale Big Enough

Under the national commission, the salary limit for Class C league is $2750 per month, with a limit of fourteen players. There is no question but what Glendale is large enough to support a team of this calibre, and all that is needed to insure its success is a winning club, especially the first year.

According to the present plan, three games per week will be played, on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday; or one game on Saturday and a double-header on Sunday. It is likely that the former plan will be adopted. No matter how good the variety of ball offered, fans are apt to weary of the pastime before two full games are played, and the powers that be are discouraging this double-header idea.

Look Into Future

The news that Glendale will have league ball or independent ball of a high character is not a great surprise to those close to the management. With the investment they have made in the up to date park on San Fernando road, they are looking to the future instead of the present, and if territorial restrictions and differences can be ironed out, it may not be long before Glendale will have a franchise in a league playing the best minor league ball in the United States.

They have a larger territory to draw from than many teams have that are playing class A ball, and infinitely better baseball weather. Both owners are high up in baseball circles in southern California, and may be counted on to grab the plum when the right moment arrives. The backing of the Coast league is a guarantee of success, and while the pathway of a newly formed league is seldom rosy, the men connected with it have a great deal of experience, and ought to be able to put the thing over in good shape.

GIANTS TO MEET GLENDALE SQUAD

St. Louis Team to Play Here Saturday and Sunday to Satisfy Local Fans

Immediately upon the return of Frank Kerwin from the meeting of the Coast league at Oakland, announcement was made from the office of the Glendale ball club that instead of playing the St. Louis Giants on Saturday and the San Pedro club in a Triple A game on Sunday, both games would be with the Giants and the San Pedro nine will appear here one week from Sunday, January 27.

This will be decidedly to the liking of local fans, who are turning out in great numbers to see the colored boys from St. Louis perform. The White Sox and the Giants have met twice, each being credited with one win. In the first game the St. Louis boys nosed out the pale hose in a pitchers' battle between Cooper and Arnold Crandall by the score of 2-1. In the second session the locals were returned the winners in a slugfest, by the score of 8-7. The first was by far the better game of the two, although the second game was close all the way and provided plenty of thrills for the large crowd in attendance.

Predicts Hard Fight

Manager Cobb of the Giants, stated that the White Sox gave his boys the hardest battles they had experienced in southern California, and he is going to send in his strongest line up in an effort to make a double win this week end. Cooper, who held the locals to four hits in the first game or "Cross-fire" Bell will be on the mound for the visitors on Saturday, with McLure, the Cleveland ace, who was bested by Hap Callard last Saturday, the popular choice for Sunday's appearance. McClure was wilder than a jack rabbit in his first appearance here, and will have a wholesome respect for the White Sox after the lacing he took in the eighth inning, when six hits, three of them doubles, netted four runs. With Cooper, Bell and McClure on hand, Manager Cobb need not worry about his twirling department.

Mike Donlin is better fixed for twirlers than he has been at any time this winter. As these are not Triple A games, he can send for outside help, notably Mr. Bill Whitaker of Universal City, and his battery mate, Jack Adams. Whitaker stopped the rush of Josh Clarke's cohorts at Signal Hill last Sunday after Arnold Crandall had come to grief. But Arnold, when he worked against the colored outfit in their first game, held them to four hits, and would have won his game had Samide, catching, not presented the Giants with two runs through errors of omission and commission. He looks better every successive game, and may be Mike's choice for the mound.

Wants to Show Stuff

Hap Callard, who turned them back in the second game, is really more valuable in the outfield due to his terrific hitting if Mike can find other twirlers. But the Sacramento man, who goes to Detroit in the spring, naturally likes to work in the box and may prevail. Then "Doc" Crandall, famous Angel, is working out preparatory to the spring season, and might want to show his wares to the fans.

There is this much about it, the White Sox are out to win, and will give everything they have. The edict has gone forth from the box office that to keep up the attendance, they must win games, and to win games, they must play. So play they will, says Mike Donlin.

In their two appearances against the Giants, the Sox have played far better ball than they did in any Triple A game, especially in the field. The apparent laziness that was evidenced in some of the former contests was conspicuous by its absence, and their batting strength improved one hundred per cent.

Both games will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Some people discontinue their cold morning plunges in the winter; others keep on lying about it.—Paris News.

Your last chance to win $500

THINK of a good title for this picture now! Send it in before 5 p.m., January 19. The Los Angeles Times offers $500 for the best title—any original thought or some quotation that cleverly and briefly describes the picture within 12 words. YOURS may be the title to capture first prize.

99 OTHER PRIZES

You may enter your titles in Class A (see prize schedule below) without spending one cent. No subscription is required.

If you wish to send in one new or renewal 3-months' subscription, paid in advance, you will be entitled to share in the larger awards in Class B—with prizes as high as $500.

Awards will be made for cleverness and brevity alone. Any sort of a title is likely to win. Put your wits to work.

This picture will not appear again. Start now! Contest closes Jan. 19.

OBSERVE THESE RULES:

1. The prizes will be awarded in two classes for titles which most cleverly and briefly describe the picture. Class A is open to all. It is not necessary to subscribe to The Times to enter titles in this class. Class B is open to those who send in one new or renewal paid in advance subscription to The Los Angeles Daily and Sunday Times, for 3 months.
2. Participants may send in just one title or any number up to five. They may be original, or quotations from some well known author, and must not exceed twelve words each. Write all titles on Coupon published in The Times, or on one sheet of paper, with name and address of sender.
3. If more than one title is submitted, only one title (the best) may receive a prize. Participants may co-operate in submitting titles, but only one prize will be awarded to any one household or group who have worked together.
4. In the event of a tie for any prize, the full amount of the prize will be given each tied participant.
5. The Times Picture Title Contest is open to everybody, regardless of residence, except employees of The Los Angeles Times and their families.
6. Titles must be mailed to show postmark not later than 5 p.m., January 19, 1924, or deposited in the Contest Box, located on the first floor, main office, of The Times Building, First and Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal., by that hour.
7. Titles submitted in Class A may be transferred to Class B by qualifying with a subscription not later than 5 p.m., Jan. 28, 1924.
8. Titles will be judged by three well known persons of Los Angeles, to be announced later, and their decision will be final. The judges will meet on Jan. 28, and announcement of the prize winners will be published in The Times and checks mailed as soon thereafter as possible.
9. All titles, subscription payments and inquiries must be addressed to Picture Title Contest Manager, The Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles, Cal.

THE GLENDALE

"Temporary Marriage," the film showing at the Glendale Theatre for the last times today, with a cast including Kenneth Harlan, Mildred Davis and Myrtle Stedman, presents a drama woven around the Manners' home, a typical American household, virtually the same as any average man's home.

By dint of hard work Hugh Manners rises to the top, but there is some disparity between the ages of the husband and wife. She is intent upon living a hectic jazz life—a life in which she is occupied in retaining her youthful figure and countenance regardless of the advancing years. She would seek a divorce from her husband because he is a "slow poke."

A plot such as this, under the capable direction of Lambert Hillyer, produces a lively photoplay of the thoughtful type.

THE GATEWAY

"West of the Water Tower," a Paramount production from the popular novel of that name by Homer Croy, is the feature at the Gateway Theatre starting today. Directed by Rollin Sturgeon from a Lucien Hubbard scenario, with a cast including Glenn Hunter, Ernest Terrence, May McAvoy, George Fawcett and Zasu Pitts, it presents a very realistic phase of American mid-west life.

The story is "The Miracle Man," "Over the Hill," and "Humoresque" rolled into one. It is the tale of a tragedy, grim and real—of the rapid rise to favor and decline of Junction City's prize smart boy, portrayed as only Glenn Hunter can do it.

A jewel of priceless value, a human story, so big, so vital, so full of pathos and laughs, human interest and dramatic suspense is the Paramount production "West of the Water Tower."

CITRUS TOSSERS TO MEET LOCALS

Two Games Set For Today Between Glendale and Visiting Teams

Bang! Crash! Boom!

The Central league lightweights basketball schedules open today! With the important game—the Glendale-Citrus fracas. At Glendale.

Both the Class B and Class C quintets clash this afternoon with their Lemon rivals. As the games are league battles, the local fives have either got to come out ahead or else probably forfeit their pennant hopes. The Citrus gangs likely feel the same way. So—there will be some real fights staged.

Although not much is known about the visiting teams, Citrus has always put out high-brand material, and this year is no exception. The 100-pounders have a well-balanced team, and will put up a stiff fight, with chances of winning if they are able to sling the ball through the basket and not just at it. The probable lineup will be: Beggs and Smith, forwards; Mitchell, center; Killinger and Apsitt, guards.

The same difficulty rests with the 130's as with the fleaweights. McAllister and Muff at guards can be depended upon to keep the invaders' score down, but, unless Neel, center, and Stearman, forward, are able to get some fight into them, the Red and Black score will be dubious. Lovell, the other forward, is all there with the fight, but he is having hard luck with his shooting. If his hoodoo leaves him today, he has an excellent chance of being high point man. Coach Butterfield is going to put the fight in the midgets if he possibly can, and if any of the regulars fall down on the job, he has plenty of subs who may not be quite as good, but who will at least do their very best. Beman, center, and Harrison, Sturgess and Farr, forwards, will be ready to fill in any vacant positions in the way they should be filled.

BANK SENDS OUT 12,000 $1 CHECKS

Encouragement of Thrift Is Motive In Distribution of Huge Amount

Believing that the encouragement of saving and thrift is an important factor in their contribution to the community development of Glendale, the local branches of the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings bank are distributing 12,000 $1 checks to patrons of their savings departments.

These dollar checks are credited conditionally with the intial deposit on any "beneficial term savings account," and unconditionally credited to the account when a minimum balance of $15 has been maintained for six consecutive months.

Money Circulates

"This gift is in addition to the four per cent interest paid on the account, no matter how small," said C. E. Pyle, head of the commercial development department, who is supervising the distribution of the checks. "We were able to make this liberal offer through curtailment of advertising appropriations which would otherwise have been invested in little 'tin' banks. If these had been purchased, the money would not only have gone back east, but it would have taken many thousands of dollars out of circulation by having it lie idle in these little banks."

The increase in the number of savings accounts during 1923 was very gratifuying, stated Mr. Pyle, and a determined effort will be made during the coming year to add the greatest number of depositors possible in this department.

DECLARES THRIFT CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Philip B. Kennedy, Official of Security Trust Bank, Speaks at P.-T. A.

"Thrift is to be a big issue in the coming presidential campaign," declared Philip B. Kennedy, vice-president of the Security Trust & Savings bank, addressing the Glendale Union High School Parent-Teachers' Association, yesterday afternoon at the school.

Mr. Kennedy's message was a most timely one on the eve of national "Thrift Week" of the anniversary tomorrow of the birth of Benjamin Franklin.

Mr. Kennedy was secured by R. F. Kitterman, vice-president and manager of the Glendale branch of the Security bank, and the P.-T. A. women were most grateful for his bringing Mr. Kennedy to them.

His talk was an informal yet masterly address on the subject uppermost in the hearts of Americans this week.

Put Thrift in Practice

"Whether it's a nation or a family, you can't go in debt without getting in a corner," declared the speaker. He continued: "People are tired of the high cost of living, which is a result of extravagant living before and during the war."

Continuing, he discussed thrift as a personal matter, discussing the right saving of money and the tragedy of poor investments. In closing he said: "Thrift Week means more than saving money—it means that we should get into our minds the spirit of thrift and then put it into practice."

Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president of the association, was in charge of the meeting, which was featured by the announcement that there are now 155 persons enrolled as members, and by the announcement that the junior class is winner of the $25 offered to the class having the largest representation of parents present at meetings since October.

Make Plans For Play

Another matter of interest was the plan for a play to be given early in March in the new high school auditorium, as a benefit for the association. The play chosen by Harold L. Brewster, dramatic instructor of the school, is "Dulcy," and he will present a student cast.

Mrs. Grace A. Coberly spoke of the crowded quarters at the public library, and it was decided that a committee be appointed to draw up a resolution to be presented at the next meeting, favoring immediate addition to the library plant. Mrs. Coberly was named chairman of this committee, and serving with her will be Mrs. E. B. Moore and Mrs. A. H. Brown.

Mrs. E. B. Moore, philanthropy chairman, told of purchasing a blanket, which she took yesterday afternoon to Mrs. E. D. Yard for use by the Welfare council.

Amend Constitution

In accordance with a request from the district, the constitution of the association was amended to include community life and better films departments.

Two enjoyable musical numbers were given by a stringed trio of students, Marjorie Potts, 'cello; Lenora Rose, piano; Lillian Sutton, violin.

The next meeting of the association, the third Wednesday in February, will be an evening affair in the new high school building.

Eastern Stars Will Attend Installation

Glendale Eastern Stars in good standing are invited to attend the institution and installation of the Glendale chapter, O. E. S., under dispensation, Saturday night, January 19, at 8 o'clock, in the Masonic Temple on South Brand boulevard.

Grand officers of the grand chapter of the state of California will be in charge.

CAUSE OF RHEUMATISM AT LAST DISCOVERED

New Oil from Germany Stops Pain Instantly in Many Cases.

For years the cause of rheumatism has been laid to a dozen different reasons. Learned doctors even disagreed among themselves. Only lately has it been definitely demonstrated that the real cause of many cases of rheumatism is the absorption by the body of poisons from some internal infection.

These poisons are absorbed by the blood and deposited in the joints and muscles, where they quickly set up inflammation and cause agonizing pain.

And now the same German chemistry that created those well known pain-killers, Aspirin for headaches and Novocain for painless dentistry, has come forward with a newly discovered oil for rheumatic pain—stops the pain at once in many cases. This oil is so penetrating that it disappears a few seconds after it is rubbed on the skin.

So astonishing have been the results from its use in Europe that the American distributors have authorized local druggists to give this oil to rheumatic sufferers in this city with a positive written guarantee, signed by themselves, to return the full purchase price of the first bottle if you do not get immediate relief from pain. If you are a sufferer from rheumatic pain, no matter how long standing, you owe it to yourself to try this wonderful new discovery on this no-risk offer and see how quickly the pains disappear. It is called Buhler Oil, and it is sold by all good druggists such as: Lexington Drug Co.; Roberts and Echols, Owl Drug Co., Geo. E. Black.—Advertisement.

DELIVERS FIRST REALTY LECTURE

C. D. Thom Opens Educational Program at Meeting of Local Board

the Glendale public library carries a number of textbooks that are of vital interest to members of the profession, and that the library officials would be willing to secure such other volumes as might be called for.

Salesmen of the various member offices will be asked to attend these educational lectures.

Hope, Hardin & Welldon presented to the board a framed copy of a picture of Glendale and were thanked by the organization. The picture will be placed on the walls of the board's office.

The multiple listing system will go into effect here on February 1, and in the meantime the contracts and other necessary forms will be secured by the board and will be available at its offices.

O. M. Newby was appointed to head a committee that will cooperate with other organizations in the work of fostering the movement to bring about the merger of the two school boards.

A standing committee to have charge of fire prevention and flood control matters will be appointed, with Lon J. Haddock as chairman.

OFFICIALS INSPECT NEW OFFICE HERE

Two Union Pacific Chiefs Pleased With Progress at Local Quarters

Two important officials of the Union Pacific system visited the new Glendale passenger office at 129 South Brand boulevard yesterday afternoon to confer with Clarence A. Redmond, district passenger agent, and his assistant, J. M. Greaves.

They were J. Cruickshank, general agent of the passenger department, and E. F. Deigert, assistant general passenger agent.

Both expressed themselves as well pleased with the progress made and stated that the Union Pacific had no better passenger office in Southern California than this will be when completed.

Residents of City

"The Glendale office is an up-to-date office for an up-to-date city," said Mr. Deigert. "The company is particularly fortunate in having it in charge of Mr. Redmond and Mr. Greaves, both residents of the city and well known here."

For many years Mr. Redmond served the Glendale territory as Union Pacific district passenger agent from the Los Angeles office. He feels that with the fine office they now have at the above address, and which is now open for business, a greatly increased volume of business will be done.

A feature of the new office, Mr. Redmond states, is that it is being entirely outfitted with Glendale materials and labor.
